Steel Union Preparing List Of Proposals

Non-Economic Matters Being Considered Now

PITTSBURGH (AP) — With its demand for a $1 an hour boost in wages and fringe benefits on the bargaining table, the United Steel Workers Union turned today to completing a presentation of so-called non-economic contract matters.

A list of these proposals covering job classifications, incentives, vacation scheduling, seniority and training was presented Thursday to at least one of the nation's big 11 steel-makers.

Plant Facilities

One of the proposals was for in-plant facilities where steelworkers could learn to read and write English and do basic arithmetic.

The other companies were expected to get look at the proposals shortly at company-level meetings that are going on simultaneously with top-level bargaining by a 12-man union-industry committee.

The top bargainers met again today in joint session to handle over the economic package the union presented earlier in the week. The package includes demands for wage and benefit increases that the union estimates would cost $1 an hour or more over three years.

No formal industry rebuttal is expected until next week at the earliest. The industry reportedly has labeled the demands exorbitant.

The union can strike May 1 if no agreement is reached.

U.S. Steel Corp., which usually sets the pace in industry talks, was handed a nine-page list of proposals Thursday. The list supplemented an earlier one that covered such areas as grievance procedures, foremen's duties, contracting out of work and the like.

U. S. Pulls Nuclear Bombers From Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — The U.S. Air Force pulled the nuclear sting from Spanish bases today and sent most of the bombers winging homeward after eight years of constant alert in Spain.

Without fanfare or ceremony, B47 nuclear bombers departed from the nearby Torrejon base and from the Moron base near Sevilla as part of the Defense Department's changing emphasis from manned bombers to missiles.

OSHKOSH—What started out as a snowball fight by a group of Wisconsin State University - Oshkosh students Thursday night, developed into a riot with the youths harassing police and firemen, marching on the city hall and parading down Main Street.

Fifteen students, many of them from the Fox Valley, were arraigned today before Judge James Sitter in Winnebago County Court for disorderly conduct as a result of the demonstration. Each posted $50 bond and the cases were continued until April 5 at 10 a.m.

At one time there were close to 1,000 students in front of Reeve Memorial Union as police and firemen, aided by the county police, tried to disperse the growing crowd during the supper hour period and end the snowball throwing.

Firemen turned water on the rioters at low pressure to bring an end to the melee.

Disorderly Conduct

Charged with disorderly conduct were Ronald W. Wruck,

22, 121 John St., Neenah; Kenneth L. Shingler, 60 Brix St., Clintonville; Lonny R. Jackson, 20, Lakewood; Leroy H. Lathrop, 21, Black Creek; Donald E. Gorshe, 23, Route 1, New London; Thomas D. Findlay, 18, Milwaukee; Thomas D. Hammes, 18, 1145 S. Quincy St., Green Bay; Roger Steinfest, 19, Antigo; Warren J. Peebles, 18, Wauwatosa; James F. Bach, 18, 1904 N. Division St., Appleton; Randall S. Grobe, 20, Rhinelander; Michael P. Staniak, 18, 729 Ida St., Menasha; John Bilenc, Milwaukee; Paul E. Witte, 21, Waukegan; Paul A. Walker, 18, Route 1, Wautoma.

Wruck, Shingler and Jackson Thursday night to disperse the crowd were arrested after a policeman crowd in midtown, where dem- was hit on the head by a thrown bottle at the corner of Main and Street and Irving Avenue at 8:09 p.m. They were kept overnight in jail while the other students were released.

The patrolman was physically assaulted by some students in a melee which occurred during the downtown parading.

The others were arrested during the disturbance on Algoma Boulevard in front of Reeve Union.

Police also reported students did some minor damage. Youths also were accused of rocking a car containing a family during the Main and Irving disturbance and scaring children in the car.

One policeman was hit on the chest.

Venezuela Riots Leave One Dead

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Riotous demonstrations against President Raul Leon's government left one man dead and at least 25 persons injured today.

Shooting broke out after police and troops used tear gas Thursday night to disperse the crowd in midtown, where dem- was hit on the head by a thrown bottle at the corner of Main and Street and Irving Avenue at 8:09 p.m. They were kept overnight in jail while the other students were released.

Viet Nam Consultations

Taylor Slated for Closed Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor said today the war in Viet Nam is "a little like the stock market" — there are fluctuations in the action but "obviously we've got to be ready for anything."

Questioned by reporters outside a congressional hearing room, Taylor said there had been an "unusually long" lull in the fighting, but there might be a new burst at any time.

Cautious Optimism

Taylor scheduled appearances before closed House and Senate committees amid some cautious optimism that the situation in Viet Nam is taking a turn for the better.

He repeated that there is no plan of specific retaliation for the bombing of the U.S. Embassy in Saigon, and that "we are simply going to stay on our program of doing what we did before."

"Nothing dramatically new needs to be added," Taylor said, "we've just got to do what we have been doing more effectively."

On the subject of riot control gas, which was used in a limited way in Viet Nam and drew some criticism from other countries, Taylor said "I think enough has been said on the subject of gas for some time to come."

Stolen Gold Finally Arrives in England

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — A consignment of 20 gold bars worth $284,200 arrived Friday from South Africa aboard the liner Capetown Castle — eight weeks late.

The gold vanished from a strongroom aboard the liner in February. A search of the vessel in Southampton was fruitless, and the ship sailed back to South Africa. There a second search turned up the bars, hidden on the ship.

Two of the ship's crew were arrested.

Top-level Talks

Taylor has spent nearly a week in top-level consultations in Washington and plans to return to Saigon soon. He said "I have never seen more unanimity" among top officials on the U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Taylor briefed a closed session of the House Armed Services and Foreign Affairs committees, and arranged a similar session with Senate committees for later in the morning. He also was to meet later today with President Johnson and the National Security Council.

Bright Youth Admits Killing His Father

NEW YORK (AP) — Gary Klinger, 18, a brilliant student who quit pre-medical studies two weeks ago, was charged Thursday night with killing his sleeping father.

The father, Bernard Klinger, 63, a pharmacist in Brooklyn, was slain early Thursday by a rifle bullet which entered his head and coursed through his chest.

Klinger

The weapon, a 6.5mm Italian magnum rifle, was found in a storm sewer two blocks from the family's three-room apartment in Brooklyn's Sheepshead Bay section.

Eliot Golden, chief assistant district attorney in Brooklyn, said the youth, who reportedly had an IQ of 150, admitted firing the rifle shot.

Police said the rifle was purchased for $16 two weeks ago in a sporting goods store.

Gary's original story, police said, was that he was awakened in the bedroom of the apartment shortly after 6 a.m. Thursday by the blast of a gun. He said he rushed into the living room where his father slept on a daybed and saw a "short, stocky man in a dark suit" climbing out the window.

The man he claimed to have seen also was carrying a cloth sack containing $500 in receipts from the drug store, police quoted the youth as saying.

King Expected To Announce Boycott Plans

Civil Rights Leader Threatens Protests Throughout Nation

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., is expected to announce today details of his plan to organize an economic boycott of Alabama.

King, 36, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and Nobel Peace Prize winner, made the boycott threat last Sunday, but specifics of the plan have been kept secret.

Randolph Blackwell, a King lieutenant, flew to Baltimore from Atlanta Thursday reportedly with a final draft of the proposal.

Annual Meeting

SCLC's executive committee, holding its annual strategy meeting here, went over the plan Thursday night, committee sources said.

King was to make the details public at a news conference.

The conference is scheduled for noon Eastern Standard Time.

Other developments of the two-day SCLC meeting:

—King announced at a fund-raising rally Thursday night that SCLC would carry its non-violent civil rights protest all over the nation. He said the Southern-based conference would expand and become a national organization.

—He announced plans to add 150,000 Negroes to voter registration rolls in seven Southern states in time for the 1966 elections. He estimated the cost of the program at $480,000.

Navy Keeping Tab on Ships In Tonkin Bay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy patrol planes are keeping tabs on Soviet ships and vessels of other nations heading through the Gulf of Tonkin toward Communist North Viet Nam, sources said today.

They said these patrol aircraft sometimes fly as low as a few hundred feet to get clear identification of such ships, to photograph them, and to check on whether they are carrying deck cargo such as airplane fuselages, missile bodies, or tanks.

These sources deny Navy planes do any buzzing, which means a very low and harassing pass.

The Soviet Union has been claiming repeated U.S. buzzing of its ships off Viet Nam in the East China Sea, and the Sea of Japan.

Navy officials noted that Soviet planes in the past have overflown U.S. aircraft carriers in both the Pacific and the Atlantic.

The Navy stepped up air patrols along the Vietnamese Coast about five weeks ago.

Two such patrols are flown each day by P2V Neptune patrol planes based in South Viet Nam.

A major purpose of the expanded patrolling is to monitor shipping bound into North Viet Nam — not only Communist bloc shipping but vessels of other nations as well.

The greatest interest is in vessels flying Communist bloc flags, especially since the Soviet Union announced it would provide increased military aid to North Viet Nam, which has been hammered by U.S. and South Vietnamese air bombing strikes.

Johnson Orders New Look at VA Hospitals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, apparently heeding criticism on Capitol Hill, says he has some doubts in his mind about the decision to close 11 veterans hospitals, and has ordered a restudy.

At a news conference Thursday, the President said he has asked VA Administrator William J. Donovan to personally visit each of the hospitals and "take another review of them."

Fighter-Bombers Blast Suspected Guerrilla Sites

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Four U.S. Army men were killed and six others wounded in an assault on a Viet Cong stronghold 20 miles west of Saigon. U.S. military spokesmen reported today. Heavy casualties, both government and Communist, were reported in other actions in South Viet Nam, the reports continued.

Two of the American dead and some of the wounded were helicopter crewmen. Two U.S. Army helicopters were shot down during the fighting.

Reports of the fighting in Hau Nghia Province, were fragmentary. Early reports said five South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 20 wounded during the first phase Thursday.

The America's dead brought the U.S. toll in Vietnamese combat since December 1961 to 320.

Viet Cong Sites

Thirty-three U.S. jet fighters and bombers blasted suspected Viet Cong concentrations at various sites inside South Viet Nam today. The biggest raid was by 17 F100 Super Sabre Jets in Quang Tri Province, not far from the North Vietnamese border.

Authorities reported that both government forces and the Viet Cong suffered heavy casualties in a major battle Wednesday in Quang Tin Province, 350 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. Air Force F100 from nearby Da Nang airbase swooped in and apparently saved fleeing Vietnamese marines from possible annihilation, at the same time inflicting a heavy toll on the pursuing Viet Cong.

Official Tally

Official accounts said the government forces suffered 32 killed, 104 wounded and 20 missing during the fighting near Viet

An, strategic redoubt controlling the approaches to Tam Ky, capital of the province.

An airborne battalion and two marine battalions were involved in the battle. One of the marine units was fleeing at a dead run while the Viet Cong chased them through a sugar cane field.

The F100s shrieked in at treetop height and blasted the pursuing Viet Cong with rockets and cannon.

Vietnamese sources claimed 300 Viet Cong were killed, 200 in the aerial attacks. A U.S. military spokesman said American sources on the scene believed the figures might have some substance.

Common Practice

However, it is a common practice of the government to inflate enemy casualties vastly as the operation in Quang Tin apparently was. The fighting there was reported to have broken off Thursday.

Government troops in Long An Province, south of Saigon, killed 36 Viet Cong and captured 46 suspects in an operation that cost six government dead and 12 wounded.

The fighting in Hau Nghia Province raged so fiercely that helicopter medical evacuation flights were suspended until landing areas could be made more secure.

Three Girls Die in Green Bay Fire

Father Returns Home With Wife to Find House Ablaze

Post-Crescent News Service

DYCKESVILLE—Dazed by the shock of losing three daughters, Clarence Falish, father of 10, stared blankly at the house from which a short time before the lifeless bodies of the three little girls had been carried by firemen.

"I couldn't have been gone more than 20 minutes," he said as he told of going to a nearby bowling alley to pick up his wife who worked there and then coming home to find the house ablaze with the three children inside.

Dead of suffocation in the fire late Thursday morning in this little community astride the Brown-Kewaunee County line on the Green Bay shore are Jean, 6, Caroline, 3, and Joanne, 2.

Falish, an employee at Northern Paper Mills in Green Bay, said that he works the night shift and was at home watching television with the three little girls Thursday morning while his wife was doing cleaning work at the Club Dyckesville bowling alleys, located a quarter mile away.

He said about 11:10 a.m. his wife called to say she was finished working and wanted him to give her a ride home.

Watching TV

Leaving the children watching television in the living room of the story and a half frame house a block off highway 57, Falish picked up his wife at the bowling establishment and then stopped at a store.

A neighbor, Raymond Vandenhooten, who lives across the road, telephoned the Luxemburg Fire Department after flames were seen through the living room windows of the Falish home. He also called the bowling alley proprietor who in turn called the store where the Falishes said they planned to stop on the way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Falish hurried home to find the house in flames.

Firemen asked neighbors fighting the fire if anyone was inside and were told that the

Demonstrators In Camden Plan Another March

Previous Attempts On Court House Halted by Mayor

CAMDEN, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights demonstrators were determined today to attempt another march on the courthouse of this small southwest Alabama town and the mayor was equally determined to prevent it.

Mayor Reg Albritton, 42, personally stopped three of the four marches staged here this week, once with smoke bombs. There were no injuries.

Three Policemen

The mayor said Thursday he was responsible for the security and generalelfare of the town of 2,500 — which has only three full time policemen — and did not want to use force.

The mayor said he was willing to meet with any of the Negroes to discuss their problems.

But, he said, "they shouldn't just come down here for the hell of it."

At Birmingham, Gov. George C. Wallace posted a $5,000 reward for the criminal or criminals responsible for a dynamite bomb which exploded in a Negro neighborhood. Pledges to a reward fund soared to $50,000 within hours after the incident.

"We are sure going to try to find out who did this," the Alabama governor said during a visit to the home of T. L. Cromwell, a Negro accountant whose son, Weymouth, 13, suffered a hand cut in the blast.

Garage Wrecked

Soon after the dynamite wrecked a garage behind Crowell's house, time bombs were found and disarmed at the home of Mayor Albert Boutwell and the home of a member of the City Council, Miss Nina Miglionico.

Police said the first bomb might have been a decoy to draw them to the Negro area across the city away from the locations of the other two bombs.

At Camden, a member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference was directing the marches as part of a protest over voter registration procedures.

Heavy Water Escapes From Atomic Reactor

LONDON (AP) — About 60 gallons of radioactive heavy water escaped during a regular shutdown Thursday of the Pluto reactor at Harwell, the Atomic Energy Authority disclosed today.

Routine maintenance and changing of experimental equipment was being carried out at the time.

About 15 persons were in the reactor building, but the authority said none received a radiation dose above permitted levels. No damage was done to the equipment.

Two-thirds of the heavy water has since been recovered, the authority said.

Red China Official Inspects Aid Project Constructed in Nepal

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Communist China inspected today the first completed Chinese aid project in Nepal — a factory to meet a growing demand for shoes in this remote but modernizing Himalayan kingdom.

Chen, here on a five-day state visit, toured the factory and chatted with Chinese-trained Nepalese who will run it when it goes into operation Sunday with a capacity of 30,000 pairs of shoes a year. An adjacent tanning plant, also built by Chinese, is expected to provide a leather supply for shoes and some extra for export.

Other Chinese aid projects at various stages of construction are a 61-mile road from the frontier of Chinese-held Tibet to Katmandu, three warehouses, and a brick and tile factory.

Anderson Out As Basketball Coach at MSU

Spartans' Athletic Chief Labels Move 'Difficult Decision'

BY BOB VOGES
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — "This is the last year we'll have to suffer," predicted Michigan State Basketball Coach Fordy Anderson, an optimist in defeat.

Fordy was fired Thursday and will have to watch the Spartan fortunes from the sidelines. Anderson had high hopes for his Spartans of next season despite a 1-13 Big Ten record — the worst in the conference in MSU history — and a 5-18 overall season mark.

He figures freshman talent is the best in years. "It was a most difficult decision for me to make," said MSU Athletic Director Biggie Munn, "but our basketball fortunes of late have not been what we'd like them to be and in order to improve the picture this decision was made."

There was no immediate announcement of a successor but the search is on.

"We'll start interviewing right away," said Munn. "I have some prospects in mind but I don't want to mention any names."

Overall 125-124

Anderson had five conference second division finishes in the last six seasons and an over-all 125-124 mark in 11 seasons. His Spartans had one undisputed Big Ten title in 1959 and shared another in 1957.

Anderson said he learned of the firing "with deep regret. It was a big disappointment — coaching has been my whole life," he said.

"I'm sorry Mr. Munn does not consider me adequate to continue the duties involving the basketball fortunes of Michigan State," he said, "and for this I am deeply disappointed."

Anderson, 46 and the father of four children, said he "hoped the university would find a place for me."

Assistant coaches Bruce Fosom and Dan Peterson both have tenure but their status is uncertain.

Anderson played high school basketball at Gary, Ind., and college ball at Stanford. He MSU in 1954. His lifetime coaching at Drake and Bradley record showed 207 victories University before moving to

Red Wings, Canadiens Dressen Ends 3-Week Stay At Hospital

Detroit Defeats Black Hawks, 4-3, On Ullman's Goal

BY TED MEIER

The Detroit Red Wings and the Montreal Canadiens, who finished one-two in the regular season, have jumped out in front in the National Hockey League playoffs for the Stanley Cup.

The Red Wings beat the Chicago Black Hawks 4-3 Thursday night on Norm Ullman's goal with less than five minutes to play before a Detroit turnout of 14,927. Bobby Rousseau's goal with less than eight minutes to go gave the Canadiens a 3-2 triumph over the Toronto Maple Leafs, the defending cup champions, before 14,007 at Montreal.

The semifinal best-of-7 series resume this weekend. Toronto plays at Montreal Saturday night. Chicago is at Detroit Sunday night.

Each winning goal came in spectacular fashion.

Ullman's came only seconds after the veteran center had left the penalty box. He skated in front of the net, took a pass from Parker MacDonald and batted a hard backhand shot past goalie Glenn Hall at 15:13 of the third period.

Rousseau's winner came at 12:29 of the third period when Toronto was a man short. He took Jean Beliveau's pass at the blue line, cut past Carl Brewer and shovelled the puck over goalie Johnny Bower before sliding into the boards.

"I got a good clear shot at the net," Rousseau said later. "The puck trickled off Bower's pads. Brewer threw a check at me after the puck went in and I fell towards the left side of the net."

Referee Vern Bueffey called a total of 26 penalties at Montreal including a match penalty on Kent Douglas, Toronto defenseman, after a stick-swinging duel with Dave Balon of the Canadiens.

Fight Results

SAN JOSE, Calif. — Manuel Ramirez, 133½, San Jose, knocked out Al Chabot, 133½, Prince George, British Columbia, 5 SEATTLE — Andy Kendall, 175, Seapocket, Ore., outpointed Sly Carter, 174½, Seattle, 10.

Automatic Fine

The match penalty was imposed under the NHL "deliberate attempt to injure" rule. It means an automatic $100 fine for Douglas and a mandatory review of the case by NHL President Clarence Campbell, who watched the game.

Punch Imlach, the Toronto coach, fumed at what he termed "the biggest miscarriage of justice of the year." He claimed Douglas had only retaliated after

Detroit Manager Doesn't Know When He'll Rejoin Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charlie Dressen may have suffered a heart attack, but there is nothing faint of heart about the busy little manager of the Detroit Tigers.

The 66-year-old Dressen was back home today — a new apartment in Westwood which he had never seen before after spending three weeks in St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica recuperating from the attack.

Dressen's physician, Dr. John C. Sharp, let him hold a brief news conference just before he left the hospital Thursday.

Out of it came such typical Dressen declarations as: "The Yankees can be had."

"We'll be an improved ball club this season. Detroit can be a big threat."

Recreation Program

Dressen said he does not know when he will rejoin the team. It will be a day-to-day program of treatment from now on.

"My doctor says I'm the best patient he ever had," said Charlie, his sharp blue eyes flashing.

Dressen was allowed but one telephone call from the club, talking at length with General Manager James A. Campbell.

"We talked a lot about things we hadn't been able to before I got sick," he said. "We had some trades in the making — and they're still in the making."

Dressen gave no inkling who might be involved.

He was kept in close touch, with progress of the team through daily letters from his interim manager, Bob Swift, and Campbell.

Buckingham Betters Medley Mark by Nearly 5 Seconds

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Yale's 25-yard pool by posting a For Greg Buckingham, the national AAU indoor 400-yard individual medley swim he won was nearly five seconds from the listed mark.

Who is Buckingham? That's what a lot of folks wanted to know after this 19-year-old ex-cited an opening night crowd of can record Thursday night in experts.

"I don't blame them," said the 6-foot-3, 190-pound youngster, a freshman at the College of San Mateo, Calif. "I haven't been more than average. I've been in the 400-yard medley about four times now, and was in this one only for a warmup."

Greg wasn't able to make any of the Olympic trial finals last summer, but he did get a third place in the 200-meter freestyle division of the Central Fox Valley Women's Bowling Association tournament.

Brecklin's Viking, also of Neenah, the previous leader, dropped to second with 2,583 (64).

Four team shifts and six singles and doubles squads are on the docket this weekend. The tourney closes April 11.

Former Olympic Cager Pippin Found Dead

FULTON, Mo. (AP) — Dan Pippin, 37, captain of the championship U.S. Olympic basketball team in 1952 and former star at the University of Missouri, was found dead Thursday in his car at a vacant farm house garage near McCredie, Mo.

Coroner Denzil C. Browning said a hose extended from the exhaust pipe through a window of the car.

Browning said officers were notified by Pippin's wife that she had received a letter from her husband in which he said he planned to commit suicide and informed her where to send officers to find the body.

Pippin attended the University of Missouri and entered military service in 1944. After World War II, he played with the Missouri basketball team for three seasons, winning Big Seven Conference honors. He later captained the team that won the Olympic title at Helsinki in 1952.

On Speed, Defense in Spring Training Camp

Koufax' Elbow May be Key to Los Angeles Chances

By Joe Reichler
VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Walter Alton has been spreading the gospel of speed and pitching around the Los Angeles Dodger training camp all spring.

The Dodger manager has been preaching that the best defense is the best offense, neither of which the club displayed all last year.

That's why the Dodgers traded Frank Howard, their only blockbuster, to Washington last winter for glue-fingered John Kennedy, a .230 hitting third baseman, and Claude Osteen, a 15-game winning southpaw.

Osteen strengthens the club's strongest department and, when combined with Don Drysdale, Sandy Koufax and John Podres, the staff could be one of the most powerful ever assembled. The fact that three of the Big Four are left-handers is another plus factor.

Sensation of Camp

The rest of the cast is the same with the exception of second base where 21-year-old Jim Lefebvre, a product of Spokane, will open the season. The youngster, a switch hitter, has been the sensation of the camp.

"I think we can come up with more hitting this year," said Alton. "We have every reason to believe that Tommy Davis will hit better than his .275 of last year. After all, he led the majors in hitting two straight years before that."

"Also Maury Wills should get on base more. He fell off to .275 last season after two straight .300 years. The figures show that when Wills gets on base, the Dodgers score."

Alton believes that Willie Davis has the potential to become one of baseball's greats.

"I don't know where the potential ends," Alton said. "If we can get him to hit to the opposite field this year, I've no doubt he will move into the same sphere as Willie Mays and Henry Aaron. He will become a complete ball player."

Quota on Deer Will be One of Hearing Topics

MADISON (AP) — Expansion of the variable quota deer hunting plan will be one of the top subjects to be considered at county Conservation Congress hearings set for Monday.

Proponents of the proposal maintain that allowing more deer to be taken under the plan would contribute to a needed reduction in the state's deer herd. A nine-day deer season has been set to open Nov. 29.

Another proposal would prohibit shooting bear cubs and allow establishment of closed areas on dumps where bear feed.

Delegates elected at county meetings will meet later in Madison to review actions. The Conservation Commission uses Congress recommendations in establishing future regulations.

Aaron Records 66 in Opener At Greensboro

Holds 1-Shot Lead Over Martindale, Hunt; Palmer at 72

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Despite the presence of most of the big names of professional golf, the pattern of recent weeks is holding in the $65,000 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament.

Tommy Aaron, 26-year-old pro of five years from Gainesville, Ga., never a winner on the tour, held a one-shot lead going into today's second round.

He blistered the 7,000-yard par 36-35—71 Sedgefield Country Club course with a first round 31-35—66 Thursday.

Four times this year in 11 tournaments, the victor has been a first-time winner. It happened twice in the last two weeks. Bert Weaver scored at Jacksonville, Fla., two weeks ago and last Sunday at Wilmington, N.C., it was Dick Hart's turn.

The presence of Masters champion Arnold Palmer and other top stars was supposed to change things here.

But Palmer, with putting problems, had to settle for a 72 as 18 men in the field of 144 broke par and 21 others matched it. Tony Lema had 71 and Gary Player shot 73.

Aaron's five-under-par 66 was good for a one-shot edge over five-time British Walker Cup-Ryder Cup player Bernard Hunt and Bill Martindale, former Texas A&M player, who picked up $500 bonus with his first hole-in-one. Martindale aced the 171-yard seventh hole with a No. 7 iron.

Duff Lawrence, who is leaving the tour after this tournament for the security of a club job at Columbus, Ohio, and Sam Snead tied for fourth with 68s.

Snead, shooting for an eighth victory here since 1938, knocked in three straight birdie putts of 10 to 12 feet, starting on No. 4.

Phil Rodgers and Dave Hill tied for sixth at 69. Eleven men shot 70, including PGA champion Bob Nichols.

Defending champion Julius Boros was one of 21 with par 71.

Roger Koehn Blasts 662 in Classic Loop; Al Laux Has 653

Pat Murphy powered a 732 national honor count in the KCA General Office League at the 41 Bowl Thursday night to walk off with Fox Cities keging honors in a big way.

Murphy's booming start was the first of his bowling career and the first in the KCA circuit in at least 10 campaigns.

Murphy started out with a 242 game, followed with a 225 count and finished with a 265 line. He had a total of 22 strikes in the three games and his third line included two spares, eight strikes and a spare.

William Berndt fired a 255 game and a 672 series to set the pace in the Fox Valley Classic League at Lakewood Lanes Wednesday night. Claude Charon took runnerup honors with a 245 game and 668 series.

Bayer Hita 651

Bob Kositzke and Roger Koehn shared honors in the 41 Bowl Classic League last night with Kositzke hitting a 237 game while Koehn put together a 662 series that included a 230 line. Chuck Bayer had a 235 game and 651 series for runner-up honors.

Carroll to Hurl Track Meet Championship Against Phillies Captured by Manitowoc

Braves' Rookie to Shoot for 9-Inning Performance Tonight

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Rookie right-hander Clay Carroll checked into the Milwaukee Braves' spring training camp shooting for job as a relief pitcher. Now he's bidding for a starting berth.

Carroll had only an 8-8 record with Denver in the Pacific Coast League last year, but was a sensation after he was called up by the Braves in September.

He has picked up where he left off last fall and has been one of the most impressive hurlers in the Milwaukee camp. He pitched seven innings against Cincinnati last Saturday and tonight will attempt to become the first Milwaukee hurler to go the distance when the Braves are host to the Philadelphia Phillies.

"His pitching has been out of this world," Manager Bobby Bragan said in praising Carroll, who won't be 24 until May 2.

Blazing Fast Ball
Carroll, who has a blazing fast ball, was signed to a Milwaukee contract by Dixie Walker, now a Braves coach, in 1961.

He made his National League debut last September with two scoreless innings against the St. Louis Cardinals.

In his next outing, he was tagged for four runs in 2 2/3 innings by the Chicago Cubs, but after that he was untouchable. In his next nine relief appearances, he didn't permit a run. He finished with a 2-0 record and a flossy earned run average of 1.80.

Bragan gave his charges the first day off this spring Thursday. Most of the players attended the annual awards dinner at night. Third baseman Eddie Mathews was honored as the Braves' most valuable player in the training season. Infielder Sandy Alomar was toasted as the outstanding rookie.

Packer Home Slate Begins On Latest Date Ever - Oct. 3

Face Colts
Sept. 26 in Milwaukee

BY ART DALEY

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The Packers open their 1965 league season on the road for only the second time in their modern history.

They meet the Western Division champion Colts in the second game and the second last game of the season.

They make their latest league-game start and finish in history in Green Bay.

And they take on the dangerous Vikings, who tied the Packers for second place last year, twice in the last five games.

Among Highlights

These are among the highlights of the Packers' 14-game schedule, announced today by Coach-General Manager Vince Lombardi via the National Football League.

The Packers will play the Bears Oct. 3, the 49ers Oct. 10, the Lions Nov. 7 and the Vikings Dec. 5 in City Stadium. They take on the Colts Sept. 26, the Cowboys Oct. 24 and the Rams Nov. 14 in Milwaukee County Stadium.

The Packers will be shooting for a January appearance in the "new" 50,700-seat City Stadium, which is another way of saying that the '65 championship game will be played in the home park of the Western Division winner Jan. 2.

The Packers finish off their schedule with a blaze of murder. Three of the last five games are against the two top clubs last year, the Colts and Vikings. They visit Minnesota Nov. 21 and Los Angeles Nov. 28, return home to meet the Vikings Dec. 5 and then invade Baltimore Dec. 12 and San Francisco Dec. 19.

Start Week Later

The entire schedule is starting a week later this year. All of the Packers' league games are on Sunday afternoons. The City Stadium start is the first time Green Bay ever opened at home in October and no league game was ever played here in December, though the '61 title game was here in that month. Several

Cunningham Clouts Grand Slam To Lead Senators to Victory

BY MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax had just completed his second game within five days, and the Los Angeles Dodgers were beaming.

"I was a little worried about Sandy 10 days ago because his arm was tender," said trainer Wayne Anderson last Tuesday, but everything is fine now.

Less than 48 hours later, the left elbow of the great pitcher had shattered the Dodgers right out of their contentment.

Koufax, plagued with various problems in the previous three years, had another one — one that cast another shadow over his baseball future.

The 29-year-old left-hander flew from Vero Beach, Fla., to Los Angeles Thursday to undergo examination for swelling and stiffness in his pitching elbow. The same one that sidelined him for the final month and a half in 1964.

Pappas Has Problem

Another pitcher with a problem is Baltimore's Milt Pappas. The veteran right-hander was forced to leave the Orioles' exhibition contest with Pittsburgh in the second game. He, too, had a sore elbow.

The Pirates won the game 7-4 behind the hitting of Ossie Virgil, who drove in four runs with a triple and a single. The Dodgers, incidentally, defeated Philadelphia 6-3 after Tony Taylor's error paved the way for three Los Angeles runs in the fifth inning. One pitcher who enjoyed himself Thursday was Warren Spahn, who will be 44 years old behind the combined nine-hit hurling of Bill McCool, Gerry Arrigo and Ted Davidson while the Los Angeles Angels rallied and for two runs on Jack Warner's homer in the seventh for a 5-3 Bavasi. "We phoned Dr. Kerlan and he advised Sandy to fly to Los Angeles.

Joe Cunningham socked a grand slam homer and Willie Kirkland drove in five runs, three on a homer, powering Washington past Kansas City 11-6.

The Chicago White Sox defeated St. Louis 11-9 with a nine-run outburst in the seventh. Tom McCraw and Floyd Robinson each stroked two singles in the rally.

Rain washed out the Chicago Cubs and San Francisco and Boston and Cleveland.

AHS coaches who will be guests include Ade Dillon, Dick Emmanuel, Keith Kohlman, Gene VandenHeuvel, Dave Black and John Graff. FVL coaching guests will be Gary Kaniess and Dave Umnus. From Xavier, the coaches on hand will be Gene Clark, Bob Pliska and Dave Hussey.

The principals of all three high schools will also be among the guests.

Serving as master of ceremonies will be Bill Kiss. Kiwanis committee members include Gene Davis, Gene Steinhorst, Earl Miller, Louis (Hap) Waltman, Art Benson, Bill Solberg, Wayne Berkeley and Wilmer Krueger.

Koufax' Elbow Ailing Again, Leaves Camp

Dodger Star Flies To Los Angeles For Examination

BY BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southpaw pitching star Sandy Koufax and his ailing left elbow were back in the news Friday and the Los Angeles Dodgers are deeply concerned.

The 29-year-old strikeout king abruptly flew out of the Dodgers' training base at Vero Beach, Fla., Thursday and was under examination Friday by Dr. Robert Kerlan.

The Koufax elbow was swollen and stiff when he left Vero Beach and Sandy himself confided to intimates that he was worried.

Jammed Sliding
The elbow is quite familiar to Dr. Kerlan. It is the same one Sandy jammed sliding into second base last August in a game at St. Louis.

The injury sidelined Koufax for the remainder of the season and cost him any chance of winning 25 games for the second straight year.

Dr. Kerlan advised the club he wants to take X-rays of the elbow and compare them with the prints he took last year.

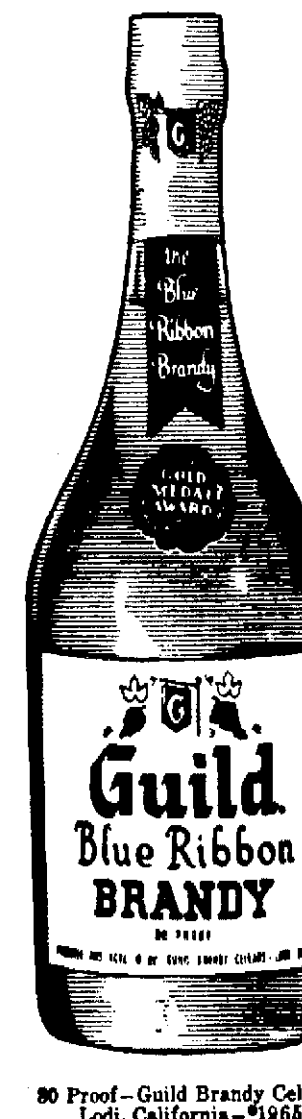

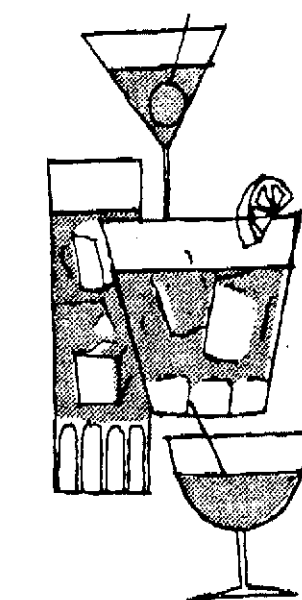

Koufax left Vero Beach while the main club was in Clearwater, Fla., playing Philadelphia, and his teammates were unaware of the move until they returned to Dodgertown.

"Sandy came to me in the morning and said he was worried because his arm was stiff," said the club's general manager, E.J. (Buzzie) Warner. "We phoned Dr. Kerlan and he advised Sandy to fly to Los Angeles.

"If everything is all right, Sandy hopes to be back here within 24 hours."

Committee Makes Plans for Drive In Fox Cities Area

A goal of 500 was set Thursday at the first meeting of the membership committee of the Fox Valley Human Rights Council at the home of James Sutherland, Appleton, committee chairman.

Sutherland emphasized that the organization seeks a large base of support, to include those who will not have the time to become active in committee work. Membership is open to those who subscribe to the purposes of the organization. The fundamental purposes of the council, according to Sutherland, are to create affirmative attitudes toward the exercise of equal opportunities by all citizens of the community, and to stimulate the people of the community to a greater understanding of the rights of all people regardless of race, creed, color, or national origin. He added that the council's primary area of concern is the cause of human rights in the Fox Valley.

Annual dues are $2 per person and $3 for husband and wife. Organizational memberships are $5.

Committee Members
Members of the committee, and the areas they represent, are Mrs. Robert Feldkamp and Neil McCarty, Kaukauna; Marshall Granros, Little Chute; Jack Marquardt, Kimberly; Mrs. William Burger, Neenah; and Kenneth Benson, Eugene Dannecker, Mrs. Donald Long, Victor I. Lawrence to Have Plan Symposium

National, Local Planners to Appear on Daylong Program

National and local authorities with a keynote speech in the on planning will be headliners at a community planning symposium sponsored by Lawrence University Saturday, April 10.

To be held on the college campus, the symposium is motivated by the increasing importance of knowledge about community planning and by the timeliness of the topic, according to Elliott Bush and John Davis, coordinators of the day-long event.

They emphasized that while the City of Appleton is currently engaged in long range growth plans, plus the activity of Project 70—Lawrence University is also looking ahead to the needs for the future, including new facilities and campus expansion.

The symposium will provide a forum for theoretical speculation and practical discussion of ideas about community planning. Lawrence and Appleton planning in particular. The day's program will begin the attorney general's office at Hastings of the 7th District federal court.

Under the CAE order of last Nov. 24, North Central service to the Fox Cities is to be combined with Oshkosh service at the Winnebago County Airport in Oshkosh, Clintonville service is to be combined with Madison by Chief Judge John Green Bay service at Austin Straubel Field in Green Bay, and service to the Ashland airport is to be discontinued and combined with service at Ironwood, Mich.

Late in January the CAB delayed the effect of its order until 10 days after the federal court disposes of the appeal. The court decision isn't expected until late this year.

Truancy Problem May Force Change

School Program Revision Might List More Vocational Training

Truancy involving a minority group of Appleton High School students may force a reorganization of school programs, School Supt. William Spears indicated Thursday.

Spears told a juvenile problems inter-agency committee studying truancy problems that plans are being discussed to cope with the "high school drop out who is still in school, if not in mind, at least in body." The plans may include more vocational or job training programs. The committee meets regularly with County Juvenile Court Judge Raymond P. Dohr.

Truancy is rising among the minority group of Appleton High School students, Spears said, because of programs which now force the student to stay in school longer. In other years, this same student may have quit school to follow a vocational program, or to find work.

Spears estimated the truancy group was about 50 students out of the 2,100 students registered at the high school. Truancy matters are generally handled in the high school by suspension or a "make up" program. Spears estimated that only one out of 10 truancy cases reaches juvenile court.

Spears outlined the program of the child service center created in the past year to deal with pupil problems of an educational nature. The center consists of a school social worker, a psychologist and a part-time psychiatrist. The center does a certain amount of diagnostic work and can make recommendations to other agencies for possible treatment of students.

The center works closely with the school attendance director, Mrs. Bel Hansen. Spears said many social "ills" are first brought to the center.

High Speed Causes Death

Ruling Given at Coroner's Inquest In Car Accident

A coroner's inquest into the automobile death of Lyle P. Rasmussen, 20, who lived at 902 E. Hancock St., ruled Thursday that the accident was caused by a car being driven at a speed greater than reasonable and prudent.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps and Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer questioned seven witnesses about circumstances surrounding the March 11 accident which occurred on E. Newberry Street in Appleton.

Kemps said the driver of the car, a 17-year-old Appleton youth, testified he had one glass of beer prior to the accident at a beer tavern in Kimberly. The youth said he was driving Rasmussen to his home when the car began spinning out of control.

The car collided with a power pole, police said, and Rasmussen was killed almost instantly. The 17-year-old youth was released from an Appleton Hospital Friday where he had been treated for injuries received in the accident. No charges have yet been brought in the case.

Assembly Indicates It Will OK Appleton Bill

Water Measure Would Allow Cities to Decide Services Outside Boundaries

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Wisconsin Assembly judiciary committee has indicated that it will probably approve and Appleton-sponsored measure to give cities the right to choose the circumstances under which they will extend their water mains to serve customers outside their municipal boundaries.

The measure was presented to the legislature in response to a ruling of the Wisconsin Public Service Commission PSC which held that the city has "held itself out" for such service and is required to deliver water to a new church outside the city in the Town of Menasha. The city has appealed that rule to the courts and trial is now pending in the Dane County circuit court.

The assembly endorsed the measure Thursday, after a vote of 62 to 34. The measure was opposed by the Wisconsin Towns Association. The bill is likely to have a final vote next week whereupon it will be sent to the state senate for consideration.

incorporating into the measure amendments designed to meet the objections of some critics who testified at two earlier hearings, including an assurance that the proposed regional cooperation law would not involve the sponsorship of utility services now rendered by private corporations.

Assembly Vote
The bill is intended to permit cities, towns, villages and counties to join in projects of regional importance and to authorize local governments acting together to condemn lands and to issue bonds for such purposes.

The bill probably will have a preliminary test in the Assembly in about a week.

Gene Franchett, planning director for the commission, said he doesn't expect any hearings to be held in the Senate. Franchett added that all the commission can do now is "wait and see what happens."

The completion date is sometime in October. The building will measure 177 by 98 feet, and be 30 feet high.

Biologist Plans Lawrence Talk

Balance of Nature To be Subject of Dr. Sumner Richman

Dr. Sumner Richman, Lawrence University assistant professor of biology, will deliver the fourth in a series of public lectures sponsored by the Wisconsin Gamma Delta chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa society at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Worcester Art Center.

His topic will be "Biological Integrators in the Balance of Nature."

Richman has worked for the past four years under National Science Foundation support investigating the rate of energy transfer between the plant and animal levels of an ecological system.

Bio Energetics

His project, described generally as a problem of bioenergetics, seeks to determine what environmental variables affect energy transfer, and to provide general background on the variables, or "integrators," as they are called.

The study, involving small aquatic plants and animals known as plankton, is being carried out on Lake Winnebago. It concerns certain of the lake's species of green algae and a micro-crustacean called the copepod.

Richman describes the work as "very fundamental," adding that little experimental biological work has been carried out on the lake.

Joined Faculty

The speaker joined the Lawrence faculty in 1957 as an instructor in biology. He was earlier a teaching fellow at the University of Michigan and a laboratory assistant at the University of Massachusetts.

He earned a B.A. degree at Hartwick College, N. Y., and M.A. degree at the University of Massachusetts, and a Ph. D. at the University of Michigan, all with the major field of zoology.

His professional memberships include the Society of Sigma Xi, science research group, the American Society of Limnology and Oceanography, and the Ecological Society of America.

His paper on a study of population effects in Daphnia pulex was published by the limnology and oceanography society in 1956.

New London Bank Cashier Gets Probation

Richard Zuege, 38, Falsified Records to Cover Embezzlement

A former cashier of the First State Bank of New London, Richard A. Zuege, 38, was placed on probation for three years Thursday by U. S. District Court Judge Robert E. Tehan. Zuege pleaded guilty of making three false entries in bank records. The federal Bureau of Investigation said the entries were made to cover embezzlements of $8,700. Zuege told the court he had made restitution. Zuege made the entries in the records to cover the embezzlements sometime prior to April, 1964. He resigned his position at the bank in September, two months before his arrest. He had worked at the bank 12 years.

noticed when the student becomes a truancy problem. Representatives of welfare agencies attending the meetings said experience has shown the school itself was responsible for some truancy problems by making excuses "too easy to get," not monitoring the school's unrestricted class program (which allows students freedom when they are not in a designated class) and exercising "too much authority" which makes the student rebel against the system.

Mrs. Hansen confirmed the school was experiencing a truancy increase. She said the unrestricted program was a major factor in the increase, but she said "there are many other contributing factors."

Outagamie Asks Foster Homes for Children

Welfare Department Needs Temporary Place for Youths Under County Control

An extensive hunt for homes'ately, but is desirous of expanding in which to temporarily place its "list" of homes available to 16 under control of the Application blanks can be Outagamie County Welfare De-obtained at the welfare department is being conducted by ment and further information is the department's child welfare available by calling RE 4-4581, and asking for the child welfare division.

Department Spokesman Chesler Luce said about 48 homes are needed and applications for foster home licenses are presently being accepted by the department.

Foster home parents receive between $45 and $75 for room and board allowances. The department provides clothing, personal and medical expenses. Luce said that contrary to popular belief, requirements of foster homes are not "strict," but do require that the home and family be "normal" and that there be room for a child. A child placed in the home could stay for as little as several days or it could stretch into a "several year" period, depending upon the case.

Lack of Homes

Foster homes are used by the department when it is determined the child should be removed from a family situation. Due to a lack of homes, reception committee, and will many of these children must be present a flag ceremony. From the airport the governor becomes available.

"The family is given complete control of the child," Luce said, "to set his or her own rules. We include a meeting with a provide social worker service university student group from for the family if the need arises. We like to have the child progress" in Oshkosh by motor accepted as a regular member of the family."

Luce said that many of the children which should be placed in the foster home "are problem children," but their problems are not severe and are often cured when they are removed from an unhappy family situation.

Luce said the department would not necessarily be using council. Reservations may be foster homes full time immediately through that organization.

Knowles Will Address Three Oshkosh Groups

OSHKOSH — A welcoming reception at Winnebago County Airport is being planned at 6 a.m. Saturday for Gov. Warren Knowles who is scheduled for speeches before three different groups during the day and evening and a press conference.

The governor will be greeted at the airport by members of the Oshkosh Safety Council of Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh Citizens Advisory Council and others. The K-Y warri-ors, a drum and bugle corps sponsored by the Oshkosh Community YMCA and Kiwanis Clubs, will act as the official reception committee, and will present a flag ceremony.

From the airport the governor will go the Reeve Memorial Union of the university where he will meet with the citizens' advisory council. Other plans "to set his or her own rules. We include a meeting with a provide social worker service university student group from for the family if the need arises. We like to have the child progress" in Oshkosh by motor accepted as a regular member of the family."

package over three years, our offer remains in effect without withdrawal," Murphy added. He did not disclose the nature of the association's offer.

Choudoir countered that the union attempted to bargain in good faith to arrive at a contract before the April 1 expiration. He blamed the contractors for the walkout, noting the association in December served advance notice of termination of the work agreement.

"Our men are off the job because they have no contract," Choudoir said. "We recognize the right of the association to bargain for the contractors and if they want to shut down that's their business. We are not trying to run the association."

He confirmed the $1.33 three-year package was originally requested but said during negotiations the union lowered demands in counter proposals.

"In fairness to the public," Choudoir said it should be known the base pay for union plumbers and steamfitters is $3.92 an hour, including vacation, based on a 40-hour week, plus six paid holidays and 12 cents health-welfare, which totals $4.12 (benefits included).

At Fond du Lac, plumbers and steamfitters may have settled contract differences with the contractors in that area. The union will vote Saturday whether to accept a 25-cent per hour package increase.

Union plumbers and steamfitters in other Valley cities, except Green Bay, will also decide whether to walk out after holding meetings this weekend.

Four Injured In Crash Near Weyauwega

Waupaca Woman, Iowa City Couple Taken to Hospital

WAUPACA — A Waupaca woman suffered a broken arm and bruises and three other persons were injured in a two-car crash near Weyauwega on U. S. 10 at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Adolph LaSage, 70, 709 Bartlett St., was a passenger in a car driven by her husband when it went out of control and struck a southbound car, police said. LaSage, 72, suffered a bruised right hip. He told police he hit some slush ice on the road and his car veered into the left lane into the path of the oncoming car, driven by Robert C. Baker, 19, Iowa City, Iowa. Mrs. Baker, 20, suffered face cuts, a bruised left elbow and left knee. Baker received only minor bruises.

Skidding Broadside

The injured were treated in Waupaca Riverside Hospital. When the cars collided, the LaSage car was skidding broadside and the right front struck the Baker car, police said. Minutes before the two-car crash, a car driven by Robert McLaughlin, 1511 S. Madison St., Appleton, hit deep slush on the road nearby, skidded out of control and went down a steep embankment. McLaughlin was walking back to the road when the other two cars collided. The accident occurred a quarter mile north of the U. S. 10, State 110 intersection.

Amherst Company Cleared

Obscene Literature Evidence Lacking

Special to The Post-Crescent

MADISON — There is no evidence that a former Amherst publishing company printed obscene literature, a special legislative committee reported Thursday.

The six-member committee was set up to investigate a report in the Saturday Evening Post that the alleged pornographic books had been printed by the Freedom Publishing Co., with officers all of rural Amherst.

Investigation has shown the printing firm dissolved on May 24, 1963. Officers were Richard S. Shaver, Dorothy Shaver and Raymond A. Palmer.

Leonard Zubrensky, a Milwaukee attorney and legal counsel to former Gov. John Reynolds, was listed as the incorporator attorney on the firm's incorporation records.

The committee, composed of three members each of the Assembly and Senate, recommended that legislation be enacted to require that anyone who publishes, prints or distributes any written or pictorial matter show the names and addresses of the publisher, printer and distributor.

The committee also reported that investigation has shown that questionable literature distributed in the state "have their apparent source outside the state."

Over 250,000 people in 130 countries bought an Opel Kadett last year.

Do they know something you don't?

Did you know the Kadett is made in Germany by General Motors?

Did you know it has bucket seats and a 4 speed floor shift and enough other standard equipment to make a lot of other cars look positively stripped down?

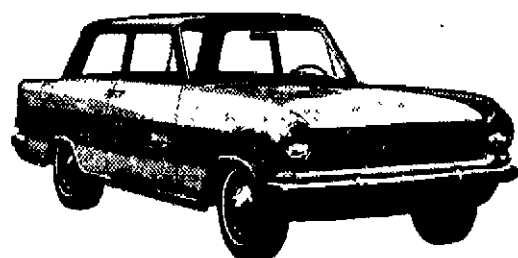

Did you know the sedan and sports coupe have trunks the size of real, honest-to-goodness trunks? And that the wagon has 50 cubic feet of cargo space?

Did you know there are Buick/Opel dealers all across the country that you can count on for parts and service?

Did you know you can buy a brand-new Kadett for the price of a good used car?

Well, now you know.

Those 250,000 people. They're still one up on you, though. They've actually driven a Kadett. Are you going to let them get away with that?

Soda Only Temporary Remedy for Indigestion

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: This has been bothering me. My mother is 36. She has indigestion almost every day, and has taken bicarbonate of soda for a long time.

I have heard that the soda will cause or help to induce heart trouble. She has a history of heart disease in her family. Is it true or false that soda can have an effect on the heart or have any bad effects on the body?—S.W.

Well, young lady, I admire your thoughtful interest in your mother's health. Frankly I wish she would stop the bicarbonate of soda at once, but not because it is likely to damage her heart.

"Indigestion" can mean a lot of things to different people. It can be a symptom of an ulcer, or hiatal hernia "upside-down stomach," so-called, gall bladder disease or gallstones, gastritis and a number of other things, including "nerves."

Benjamin Polk, New York architect, on "The Human Factor in Community Planning;" Memorial Chapel, 10:40 a.m.; seminars and discussions continuing through the day, Youngchild Hall 161.

sodium in the bicarbonate of soda will not do her any good, and will tend to make the condition worse. But soda, per se, has no effect on the heart directly.

So I hope you will relax in your worry about whether her soda-taking is hurting her heart. But I am concerned because she has made such a habit of soda, and hasn't had a thorough physical examination to learn what really causes her indigestion.

With the aid of X-ray plus some other tests, it is more than likely that the doctor can diagnose the trouble and provide proper treatment.

There are too many habitual soda-takers who could save a lot of trouble in their tummies, if they would find out what really ails 'em. I'm in favor of that!

Dear Dr. Molner: My important question: If the father's blood type is AB and the mother's blood type is A, what blood type must the baby have? I'm concerned with paternity.—E.D.

The baby can be type A, or AB, or B, which is a pretty wide choice. To be brief about it, I'll say this: Science is a wonderful thing, but with four billion people in the world and only four major blood types, there is no way of knowing that a baby is the child of any two people (out of 4,000,000,000) and only occasionally does a combination occur which, for any two adults, can be called "impossible."

Pianist Demonstrates Blazing Gift of Hands

By MARGUERITE SCHUMANN
Ivan Davis, a pianist with a big, blazing gift in his hands, concluded the 1964-65 Lawrence Community Artist Series last evening in Memorial Chapel, and demonstrated that some of the boasts coming out of the Lone Star State may very well be founded in fact.

Van Cliburn has been the big name from Texas so far, but one day soon, it can safely be predicted, the 4,970 citizens of Electra, Texas, will be putting up a brass plaque on the Davis homestead.

Ivan Davis is, quite simply, a marvel. With his enormous, shining technique he can play anything, and he is smartly sensitive to a vast spectrum of light and shade. Hearing Davis at the keyboard you suddenly realize afresh the full meaning of the word "style." He balances drama with taste, and whatever he essays — be it a tiny, jeweled Scarlatti sonata or a slashing agony by Prokofiev — he has the elegance of simplicity and honesty.

Scale Passages

Most impressive of his manifold gifts, to these ears, was his peerless way with a scale passage, it is a perfectly graduated ripple that can scarcely be attributed to the human mechanism.

Davis has, too, an ingenious stage personality. He is still young enough to make visible his belief that playing the piano is a delightful way to make a living. Sometimes he smiles secretly at the keyboard, or gives a modest little half-nod at the capers the instrument is performing for him. Sometimes he blinks owlishly, sometimes he crouches and weaves — but he never mugs, and always is totally involved in and responsive to the glorious flood he is evoking.

Disdaining an easy warm up, Davis squared off with Mozart at the outset — the Sonata in F Major, K. 332 — and gave it a relaxed, impeccable reading. The concluding allegro assai was particularly impressive, for it galloped along at a breathless clip, every note shining with clarity and health.

Robert Schumann's Variations on the Name ABEGG, Op. 1 contains more than a few seeds of triteness. It is a show piece in the grand manner — a sort of 19th century "Dizzy Fingers", with cascades and monumental clusters of notes. It, more than anything else on the program, proved the sureness of the pianist's instincts about style. He gave it dignity and great restraint.

20th Century

Prokofiev's Sonata No. 6 was as far into the 20th century as Davis ventured, and even outside his chosen period he is convincing. The sonata is an insistent, neurotic piece of composition not without its ludicrous moments in the vivace (which could serve as "chase" music in a movie), but here again Davis conquered all.

Five enchanting preludes apiece by Debussy and Rachmaninoff finished the printed program, and then the demand for encores began — a Scarlatti sonata, Rachmaninoff's transcription of "The Flight of the Bumblebee" and finally Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 6. At one point, Davis received the supreme accolade — the applause started while he still had three or four notes to go.

Northeast of Nation Gets Foot of Snow

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow, rain and cloudy weather covered broad areas of the nation today, with a storm in the Northeast dumping nearly a foot of snow in some areas.

The storm which swept across sections of the northern Midwest hit hardest in the northern Appalachians. Ten inches of snow fell in a six-hour period in Olean in western New York. The snow diminished in sections of Michigan and Ohio but fairly heavy amounts were indicated for southern parts of New England.

Heaviest snow in Thursday's storm in the Midwest was in Wisconsin and Michigan, with a half foot in Lansing, Mich., in a six-hour period. In the East, rain fell from the Carolinas to Maryland. Rain mixed with snow and snow fell in most of Pennsylvania. Moderate snow also was reported in New York City.

Rain splashed across wide areas from southern Texas to Southern California and the Pacific Northwest. Snow fell in the Rockies and at higher elevations of the Great Basin region. Heaviest rain Thursday in Southern California was in the

Speculate on Candidates for Gemini Flight

Walter Schirra, Thomas Stafford Are Likely Pilots

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A veteran Mercury astronaut and a balding test pilot are likely to get the nod for this country's most ambitious space mission — meeting and joining two vehicles in space.

It's stoutly speculated at the Manned Spacecraft Center that Walter M. Schirra Jr., 42, and Thomas P. Stafford, 34, will be named Monday to make the fourth manned Gemini flight.

Schirra, a Navy commander has said many times his heart is set on flying this one because it probably will be the most interesting, and he wants Stafford, an Air Force major with him.

They were backup crewmen for Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grissom and Navy Lieut. Cmdr. John W. Young for the initial manned Gemini flight last week. Schirra and Stafford have followed the same strict training schedule.

Guessing Game

The big guessing game has centered around who will be the backup crew for Schirra and Stafford.

Eligible candidates can be narrowed down to Grissom and Young, or two of the 13 newest astronauts, or a combination.

The rendezvous mission is planned for two days. The astronauts would pilot the Gemini spacecraft to an Agena rocket and try a docking maneuver about 116 miles above the earth while traveling at about 25,000 miles per hour.

Could Be First

Schirra and Stafford could be the first space pilots to perform the feat, if the Soviets don't do it in the meantime.

The flight is scheduled for 1966, but the Gemini program has been accelerated and it could be made late this year.

Schirra is the oldest astronaut. He made space history Oct. 3, 1962, when he completed six orbits of the earth in his Mercury Sigma 7 spacecraft, in what officials called a "text book" flight.

Johnson Cites Employment Record, Says Nation Will Maintain Historic Boom

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, citing record high employment and a seven-year jobless low, says the nation can continue riding the crest of its longest economic boom in history.

"There is much good news economically," Johnson said after the Labor Department reported Thursday that more than 70 million Americans were at work in March.

The drop in the jobless rate from 5 per cent to 4.7 per cent.

Gen. Stilwell Injured Seriously In Jump Mishap

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Investigators today sought the cause of a parachute jumping accident which left Brig. Gen. Joseph Stilwell, 53, with fractures of the lower back, pelvis and both heels.

The general, commander of the Army's John F. Kennedy Center for Special Warfare, was listed in serious condition after surgery at Womack Army Hospital at Ft. Bragg. A spokesman said he was "doing well," considering the circumstances.

He also sustained bruises on the chest and face Thursday during a free fall jump — sky diving in which opening the parachute is delayed so the jumper comes down quicker.

He is the son of the late Gen. Joseph (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell, commander of the United States forces in the China-Burma-India theater in World War II.

Prominent Patrons Pay Due To Baltimore's 'Top' Artist

BY JOHN WOODFIELD

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Thirty-one prominent businessmen, artists and sculptors gathered Thursday night as they have for 30 years to honor Ignatius Aloysius Glutz, whom they describe as Baltimore's most famous artist.

The seat of honor at the table was vacant, as usual, except for a painting of Glutz. According to legend, Glutz was born in Baltimore on April 1, 1865, and starved to death in a Paris garret 64 years later.

His name first became known in Baltimore art circles in 1935 when several unusual paintings of bizarre food arrangements appeared at the Flower Mart, a May festival at which many Baltimore artists display their wares.

Signed "Glutz"

The paintings were signed "Ignatius Glutz," but bore a strange resemblance to works of John McGrath, a prominent Baltimore artist.

According to McGrath, who was the only person known to have seen him, Glutz was born of a very poor family — so poor that the boy had to beg food. Often he slept near of the labor force is also good news, he said, but still "unemployment is too high."

The Labor Department said employment clinched 700,000 to 70,169,000, the highest March on record and — on a seasonally adjusted basis — the highest for any month in history.

Most Important

"The news of this gain in employment is the best — and the most important of all," Johnsonson.

He added: "I believe there is no more important test of the performance of this American economic system than our ability to provide jobs for those who want and need a job."

He said the record is a tribute to all sectors of this economy, his own administration.

"I believe that by trusting the working of our free economy — and making wise use of our federal policies — we can continue to sustain our prosperity," he said.

He noted the economy is in its 50th consecutive month of expansion, longest in history.

The unemployment figure of 4.7 per cent — seasonally adjusted — was the lowest since October 1957. The Labor Department adjusts the figures to account for normal seasonal fluctuations. Without adjustment, the jobless figure in March was 5 per cent of the civilian labor force, which climbed about 200,000 to 73,909,000.

The number of unemployed persons in March was 3,740,000, down from 4,218,000 in February.

Surprise News Conference

Johnson Says He Doesn't Want Innocent Hurt by Alabama Boycott

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he doesn't want innocents hurt by any economic boycott of Alabama. However, he says he is withholding judgment until Dr. Martin Luther King drafts final boycott proposals.

This was the home front highlight of a surprise news conference late Thursday at which the President also said:

— The White House is willing to do all it honorably can to negotiate a Viet Nam settlement but sees no sign Hanoi is ready to talk "under conditions that would be productive." He also said, "I know of no far-reaching strategy that is being suggested or promulgated" in Viet Nam policy talks here this week.

Soviet Invitation

— The President stands by his invitation to Soviet leaders to visit the United States "and I would be happy to welcome them."

— Johnson is taking a second look at plans to close some Veterans Administration hospitals and concedes complaints from affected members of Congress "raise doubts in my mind whether we were 100 per cent right." However, he says his advisers still "feel they were justified in that decision."

— The recent controversy over the use of nonlethal gas in South Viet Nam was, in the chief executive's view, a case where "somebody made a mountain out of a molehill." He said he didn't know about it in advance, but defended the move as humane and rather routine.

Bank Regulations

— A reorganization of agencies that regulate banks may well be proposed by Congress and the administration in the

Nixon, Barry Differ on Voting Rights Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two antee all Americans their right to vote before the 1966 congressional elections

Not Effective

The Republican Coordinating Committee took that stand March 10. Goldwater is a member, but he was not on hand then. Nixon was.

Nixon said a constitutional amendment on voting rights could not be effective in time for the 1966 balloting. He said that kind of delay would lead to new demonstrations and the danger of violence.

"The situation requires enactment of a bill now," Nixon said. "But he was critical of the Johnson proposal. For one thing, he said, it does not provide broad enough coverage.

Its major impact would be felt in a half dozen Southern states. "I do not see why Texas should have a privileged position," Nixon said.

Nixon also said he thinks literacy tests, administered fairly, are a valid requirement. He said a sixth grade education should establish a presumption of literacy.

Goldwater said the Johnson proposal is a sample of centralized power. He said the Constitution outlaws racial discrimination in voting — but also reserves to the states the right to fix voter qualifications.

Hearings in Assembly

Oleo Issue Still to Be Aired in Senate

MADISON (AP) — With the public hearings on oleomargarine in the Assembly nearly over, the issue has yet to be aired in the Senate.

The Assembly Commerce and Manufactures Committee held its second round of hearings on the issue Thursday. It heard arguments on a bill that would repeal the state's ban on colored oleo—the nation's last—and reduce the tax from 15 to 10 cents a pound.

Assemblyman Eugene Kaufman, D-Manitowoc, committee chairman, said he expected the final Assembly bill on the subject to be introduced next week, with a hearing and executive action coming soon afterward.

Two other similar proposals, but which would vary or eliminate the tax, were given hearings March 4.

Staunch Opponent

But the chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Sen. Earl Leverich, R-Sparta, has not yet indicated when he would schedule hearings on similar bills. Leverich was a leader in instituting the ban in the early 1930s and remains a staunch opponent of any change in the present law.

In Tuesday's hearings, Oscar Christianson of Madison, speaking against the bill for the Wisconsin Creameries Association, said the state's dairy industry would have "no chance whatsoever to survive" if any of the bills were passed.

He said it was "perfectly obvious" that the only reason the repeal of the ban was sought was "to take away the market" from the dairymen.

Assemblyman William Steiger, R-Oshkosh, disputed Christianson's claim, saying he didn't think the repeal would hurt the dairymen.

Free Flow

"I feel it will help them because it will allow the free flow of Wisconsin products in those states now having restrictions on them," Steiger said.

The committee also held a hearing on a proposal providing for the licensing and regulation of television servicemen.

Sen. Fred Risser, D-Madison, proposed an amendment to the Rex Capwell of Racine, attorney for the Television and Electronics Service Association of Wisconsin, said the aim of the legislation was to eliminate the "people who are not adequately trained, the incompetent who give a bad name to the industry."

THE HEART OF JULIE JONES
Cousin isolates just an innocent kid, Eddie, and Jackie, who are undoubtedly persuasive.
Well, I can't pick him up on suspicion of being too persuasive, Julie. No law against being charming. That I know of.
But I can keep a sharp and suspicious eye on him.
THANKS, EDDIE.

Your Money's Worth

Here's What You Can Do to Help Economy

BY SYLVIA PORTER

This fall an unprecedented training program for chefs is scheduled to get underway in cities across the country. Backed by the American Culinary Federation, the American Hotel & Motel Association and the will spend a record of over $20 billion just on eating out. Another force behind the shortage is that our supply of great European chefs has been virtually cut off. Europe also has been prospering mightily in the past 15 years and such traditional suppliers of cooking talent as France and Italy have boosted chefs' salaries to levels at least competitive with those paid in the U.S.

But without doubt the biggest single reason for our shortage of fine cooks is the work's lack of status.

"The American boy today considers cooking a menial profession, below his dignity," says ACF's Brooks. "By contrast," adds Joseph Hyde, a gifted New York chef, teacher of French cooking and a college graduate, "France holds national cooking competitions and showers her best chefs with national appreciation, including the Legion of Honor. In any fine restaurant in France the chef is not only handsomely paid but is also regarded as a professional of high standing." European countries also conduct international exchanges of young chefs — an idea virtually unknown in the U.S.

An Executive

A top chef is, Brooks insists, an executive "who must possess extraordinary creative abilities and be a master planner and administrator as well." Salaries of the greats may reach $100,000 a year and typical pay for qualified chefs runs to $15,000-$20,000.

The trouble is that these chef salaries are going begging for the talent.

To help cut the shortage, the U.S. government has set up vocational training courses for cooking under the Manpower Development and Training Act. Many states are establishing special cooking programs in trade schools under the Vocational Education Act. In their own kitchens restaurants and hotels have been organizing cooking schools.

Give Status

At the core of each effort, of course, is the hope that increasing numbers of talented youngsters will educate themselves to become professional chefs and that we will give the profession the status they desire and deserve.

If you're among America's millions who eat out, you'll applaud any move which helps expand dining out has become increasingly popular and meals you are served in all but our palates have become increasingly educated. In 1965 we

Chef Shortage

The chef shortage is at "crisis" proportions, the trade believes. While more than a half million cooks now have jobs in the U.S., only a few thousand rank as truly qualified pros, and restaurants are being compelled to hire seriously underqualified workers.

Yet, the unfilled demand for highly-trained chefs runs into the tens of thousands, according to the ACF — and the Labor Department's "Occupational Outlook Handbook" ranks cooking among the most promising and fastest-growing fields for job-seekers today.

One key force behind the shortage is the extent to which eating out has soared in recent years. As our incomes have climbed and leisure time has expanded, dining out has become increasingly popular and our palates have become increasingly educated. In 1965 we

Kuwait Produces Oil

Sheikdom Successful In Buying Happiness

BY WEBB MCKINLEY

KUWAIT (AP) — They say you can't buy happiness, but Kuwait is giving it a good try.

This pint-sized sheikdom producing more than two million barrels of oil daily for the Western market, proudly calls itself a welfare state. It's more than that. Kuwait has become a rich uncle for the Arab world.

Kuwait has no unwilling unemployed. The state will clothe a citizen's children and send them to school and even college, and pay for all the family medical expenses. A visiting businessman with a toothache can get a free dentist, and a nomad with a sick camel can get a free veterinarian.

Civil Servants

This is the state where 65,000 of the 400,000 inhabitants are civil servants, and where try as it may it never manages to spend all of its more than $600 million yearly oil income.

Kuwait is not so well-known as dispenser of Arab aid and the player of power politics. Through 1964 the sheikdom has given or promised loans to Arab countries and organizations totaling more than $470 million.

About $100 million of this has been committed by the Kuwait fund for Arab economic development, unique in the Arab world. Set up in 1961, the fund aims "to assist the Arab states in developing their economies" by granting long-term loans at three to four per cent interest.

U.A.R. Loan

It has lent the United Arab Republic $27.5 million to deepen the Suez Canal and enlarge Port Said harbor; Sudan $19.5 million to modernize its railways; Jordan $8.4 million to open a phosphate mine and $490,000 to help finance a luxury hotel on the Mount of Olives; Tunisia $5.6 million for an irrigation project.

Other loans have clear political aims. These are handouts from Kuwait's huge general reserve to prop up a regime's sagging budget, or simply to win friendship.

A loan of $84 million to neighboring Iraq, whose late dictator Kassem once threatened to annex Kuwait, seemed like a pay-off for security.

One loan of $78.4 million has been made to the United Arab Republic, another of $84 million has been strongly rumored and a third may be coming. These can help tide Gamal Abdel Nasser over bad economic times, and keep him friendly.

Palestine Group

Kuwait donated more than $30 million to the Palestine Liberation Organization, a body dedicated at September's Arab summit meeting to eliminating Israel and returning the Arabs to Palestine. The grant has been coupled with an unpublished agreement allowing soldiers to train in Kuwait.

Diplomats find an erosion of Western influence here. It can be seen in the Palestine action, in Kuwait's headlong reaction against West Germany in the flareup over Israel, and in a recent trade and technical aid agreement with the Soviet Union.

The Kuwaitis, who need trade and technical advice from the Soviet Union as badly as they need another oil well, will not divulge details of the agreement. No one would be surprised if it entailed the arrival of Soviet irrigation experts in connection with a project to pipe waters of Iraq's Shat Al Arab River into the sheikdom.

Nigerian Agriculture Is Topic at Brillion's First FFA Banquet

BRILLION — Approximately 150 people attended the first annual Brillion High School Future Farmers of America (FFA) Chapter parent-son banquet at the Forest Junction Zion Church Tuesday to hear Prof. Walter Bjoraker, chairman of the Agriculture Extension and Education Department, University of Wisconsin, show slides depicting the contract in agriculture procedures here and in Nigeria where he spent 30 days last spring.

Doyle Beyle, Madison, state supervisor of Vocational and Adult Instruction, spoke on FFA leadership. He said there are 23 million jobs available in various agriculture fields today.

Swine Station Meeting Slated

The first session of its kind in state history is being planned to coordinate the swine testing station program in Wisconsin at a meeting in Portage Thursday.

Attending will be George Cuff, manager of the Hortonville station, one of four in the state, and Courtney Schwartz, Outagamie 4-H agent. Paul Jaeger, of Brownsville, is president of the board of directors.

Forester Ron Herman, FHA's R. Whilms, Take New Posts

Personnel changes have been made recently in two agriculture associated offices in Outagamie County.

Forester Ron Herman, who left April 1, has joined the Price County Extension Office as a forestry specialist. In his absence the county will be served by Dennis Reinert, education specialist for the Wisconsin Conservation Department, on a one-day-a-week basis.

Robert Whilms, county office manager for the Federal Farm and Home Administration, has been promoted to district supervisor at the Wisconsin Rapids office.

Acting Manager

George Berg, Whilms' assistant for the past 11 months, has been named acting office manager for an indefinite period.

Until a replacement has been named for Herman the forestry services for the region will be handled by other offices. Outagamie will be served by Reinert out of the Brown County office.

Winnebago by Waupaca and Calumet by Manitowoc.

The program is being coordinated by District Forester J. R. Korotev at Green Bay.

The Cicero Busy Bees Club recently held its parents' night program at the Black Creek State Fair. The association will meet at the Community Hall. The next meeting will have a safety theme in keeping with safety month.

Valley Ranks High In Number of Cows

Survey Says Swine, Sheep Declining

Fox Valley counties held their own in number of cattle on the farm over the past three years, but showed declines in both sheep and swine.

The state followed a similar pattern according to statistics reported by the Wisconsin Statistical Reporting Service.

Both Outagamie and Fond du Lac counties ranked in the top 10 cattle counties in the state for milk. Only Fond du Lac County among those in the Fox Valley area ranked in the top 10 counties with swine.

None of the Valley counties were listed in the high sheep number areas. Figures were taken as of Jan. 1.

All cattle in Outagamie numbered 102,000 in 1963 and 1964 and 104,000 in 1965; Calumet, 56,500 in 1963 and 64, and 55,400 in 1965; Fond du Lac, 113,100 in 1963, 112,000 in 1964 and 114,200 in 1965; Winnebago, 59,500 for all three years; Waupaca, 71,000 in 1963, 70,700 in 1964 and 69,300 in 1965.

State Averages

State averages for the same period were 4,382,000 in 1963 and 4,426,000 in 1964 and 1965.

Hog totals in 1963, 1964 and 1965 were Outagamie, 33,400, 33,700 and 29,000; Calumet, 11,200, 11,300 and 9,700; Fond du Lac 53,600 the first two years and 46,100 in 1965; Winnebago, 21,900 the first two years and 18,400 in 1965; Waupaca, 23,900 for 1963 and 1964 and 20,600 in 1965.

State totals also declined from 1,898,000 and 1,879,000 to 1,616,000.

Sheep stock in Outagamie numbered 900 the first two years and 800 the last; Calumet, 600 all three years; Fond du Lac, 3,200, 3,100 and 2,900; Winnebago, 1,900 in 1963 and 1964 and 1,800 in 1965, and Waupaca 1,600, 1,400 and 1,300. State totals were 136,000, 173,000 and 167,000.

Robert Stanelle, Brillion, Heads Calumet Guernsey Unit

CHILTON—Robert Stanelle, Brillion, has been re-elected president of Calumet County's Guernsey Breeders Association. Also re-elected were Henry Renn, vice president; Allen Lintner, secretary-treasurer; and Earl Lintner, Howard Sattler, Mitchell Stanelle, Elmer Federwitz and Kermit Baumgartner, directors. Gene Federwitz represents breeders on the calf rally committee.

Receiving awards for the high two-year-old Guernsey was Howard Sattler with a milk production of 13,626 pounds milk and 594 pounds fat. High mature cow award went to Elmer Federwitz with 14,074 pounds milk and 672 pounds fat.

Breeders decided to buy a silver bowl for the breeder having the high milk cow. Bob Stanelle will donate a Pewter jug for the high butterfat cow.

Stall rentals and entry fees will be paid for junior exhibitors at the fair booth, a Guernsey calf show and picnic at Terralynn Farm on July 11, and cooperate with other breeds on a summer barn meeting. Members also decided to fete their wives at a banquet in connection with next year's annual meeting.

Leslie Peckham, state secretary, reported that there was an increase of 69 per cent in consumption of Golden Guernsey milk since 1963. He also pointed out that agitation is underway to move the national Guernsey Office from Peterborough, N. H. to the Midwest.

National Guernsey Fieldman Reports:

Cattle Associations Hit by Cost-Price Squeeze

SEYMOUR — Dairy cattle group. The Jersey-Ayrshire associations for all breeds are breed units have had trouble for experiencing the cost price squeeze prevalent in agriculture and were employing part of the today, according to George Chambers, national fieldman for the National Guernsey Association.

Production Up

Chambers said milk production per cow was up in the to the Fox Valley Guernsey Association here, said the effect test produced an average of 10,000 pounds of milk during a 305-day lactation. Butterfat was averaging 485 pounds and aiming toward 500 pounds, he said.

He said the association lost $37,000 in 1963 and '64 compared to about $70,000 and $100,000 in drop in registration, Chambers those years by the Holstein explained.

Commenting on the financial problem, Chambers explained that for the past seven or eight years the association had held the line on salaries, but could not do so on increasingly costly clerical help, postage and transportation expenses. Sixty-three per cent of the clerical help has been replaced with electronic equipment.

Shift Headquarters

He said the association was considering a shift of its traditional eastern headquarters to the midwest where it would operate joint facilities with the Jersey breed.

He cited advantages of processing records, perfecting registrations, and production of both journals as reasons.

The breed association also is considering reorganizing its field service. The American Guernsey Club and state associations also employ fieldmen in addition to the national organization, Chambers explained. He predicted that change would be coming in the next few months.

Chambers, cautioned however, that the financial problem does not mean the purebred cattle industry is in trouble. The "program is in better shape than ever before," he noted optimistically.

Member Drive For DHIA Is Nearing End

Seek to Place
Half Million Cattle
On Test by May 1

A Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) membership drive to put a half million Wisconsin dairy cows on the production testing rolls is coming down the "home stretch," says Clarence Olson, University of Wisconsin dairy specialist. The drive, started nearly a year ago, ends May 1.

About 700 new members have joined DHIA in the past year — over twice the membership gains of the previous year. On Jan. 1, there were 486,016 cows on the production testing program in the state with about 14,000 more dairy cattle needed to reach the half million mark. Considerable effort will be needed in these last few weeks to push the membership figure over the goal, Olson says.

Figures show that Wisconsin has three times as many owner-sampler members as any other state in the nation.

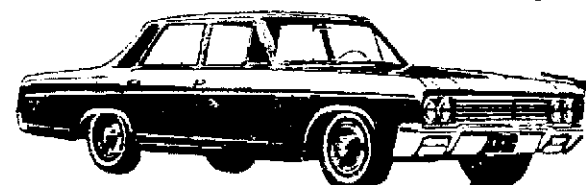

Much of the success of the membership drive must be credited to DHIA fieldmen, local DHIA boards and county agents Olson says.

Olson asks dairymen considering production testing in their herds to sign before the May 1 deadline.

Olson believes that only electronic record-keeping systems through production testing can allow farmers to do a better job of culling, feeding and heifer selection.

Custom Rate Guide Offered State Farmers

Machinery Cost,
Limited Use Seen as Looming Factors

A guide to custom rates paid by Wisconsin farmers for machine hire has been published by the Wisconsin Statistical Reporting Service.

The 8-page publication, "1965 Wisconsin Custom Rate Guide," based on a 1964 survey of Wisconsin farmers can be used equally well by farm operators, off-the-farm owners supervising their farm operations, and those

Way Cleared for Co-op Merger

The U.S. Justice Department has withdrawn its request for postponement of the merger of Land O'Lakes Creamery, Inc., Minneapolis, and the Dairy Maid Products Cooperative of Eau Claire.

The Justice Department has asked a 60-day postponement and then extended it for 30 days pending an investigation.

offering their services and machines for custom work.

Custom work and machine hire are growing in importance in Wisconsin because of the rising cost of farm machinery, diminishing supply of farm labor, and changes in cropping practices. The initial investment for some farm machinery is often too great when compared with the relatively short time it is used on only one farm.

Nine Areas

The bulletin lists the rates for nine areas of the state as well as state averages for many farm operations including fertilizing and weed killing applications, manure hauling, chain sawing, whitewashing barns, post hole digging, grain drying, as well as the costs of common field operations such as plowing, discing, cultivating, combining, corn picking, silage making, and hay harvesting.

The rates published from the 1964 survey include the range of rates reported, rates reported most frequently, and the averages of all rates for the various farm operations. There is a considerable range in rates for any operation, reflecting the varied conditions of work and service rendered and the differences in the amount of work required because of topographical, soil conditions, and other local factors.

Quality Wool Brings Best Cash Return

MANAWA — Producers are improving the quality of the wool they market, Martin B. Thorson, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Waupaca County Committee, said today.

Better prices that quality wool brings in the marketplace emphasizes the soundness of the advice producers have been getting from both industry and government, he said. A better wool package means better market returns and also higher incentive payments under the National Wool Act, he said.

The program was authorized in 1954 as a means of encouraging the domestic production of wool. It provides growers additional income for wool and at the same time permits wool to compete freely in the open market.

Wool payments, the chairman explained, are made according to a percentage method which automatically adjusts for such factors as grade, quality, and preparation. It is determined after the end of the marketing year, and represents the percentage necessary to bring the national average market price up to a previously announced incentive level.

Since the same percentage is applied to each grower's net proceeds from his sales of shorn wool during the year, the higher the market price an individual producer actually obtains, the greater his incentive payment. The percentage rate of wool program payments for the 1964 marketing year which ended last December will be announced soon.

A shorn wool incentive price of 62 cents per pound for 1964 was announced before the beginning of the 1964 marketing year. The ASCS County office will begin making payments shortly after April 1.

Graded Dairy Heifer Sales Start in April

Bonduel Is Site Of First; System Used in 11 Events

Quality dairy heifers will be offered at two graded dairy replacement sales scheduled in Wisconsin during April.

The first one will be held at the Bonduel sales barns April 3. The second sale is scheduled at the Dodgeville auction barns April 13.

The grading system has been used at 11 different dairy replacement sales in Wisconsin that sold over 1,300 head of cattle. The reaction of both buyers and sellers has generally been favorable, says George Werner, University of Wisconsin dairy specialist.

Sold Individually At a graded dairy replacement sale, farmers bring animals to the sale location where heifers are weighed and graded, and penned according to grade and size. Each heifer is sold individually and all available information on the heifer is presented at sale time.

Cattle are divided into grades on the basis of physical characteristics, udder development, weight, color characteristics of dam and sire, and production information when available. On the basis of set standards, heifers are graded superior, preferred, standard, utility or undergrade.

Sap Flowing; State's Maple Syrup Season Is Underway

Wisconsin produces about 85,000 gallons of maple syrup each year. Maple sap, which is boiled down to produce this unique tasting syrup, is now in full flow throughout most of the southern two-thirds of the state.

The season will soon be underway in the north too, says Ted Peterson, University of Wisconsin forestry specialist. Warm temperatures during the day coupled with freezing nights produce the best sap-flowing weather, he says.

At this time of the year many Wisconsin residents take a drive into the country to buy maple syrup directly from producers. Going directly to the producer is about the only way pure maple syrup can be purchased, Peterson says. Most maple producers sell their syrup in one of three sizes: 16, 32 or 64 ounces. The 16-ounce size is the most popular.

Buyers may inspect animals before the sale starts. Each heifer is identified with a hip tag so that prospective buyers can note which herds they are from, breeding date, service sire and production information. Good Dairy Quality Based on past graded sales, the large heifer weighing over 1,200 pounds and due to freshen within a month has commanded the highest prices. These animals should show good dairy quality and udder promise, Werner says.

Other things being equal, heifers from identified registered sires and bred to grade or beef bulls. Good production records on the dam add to the value of the heifer, especially if she is in the top grades, Werner says.

Local buyers have paid good prices for heifers just fresh. Out-of-state buyers want springers close to freshening, but not those that are likely to calve before they arrive at the new owner's home. Yearling heifers sell quite well at some sales, but they don't ordinarily bring as much on a per pound basis as springers of the same grade.

Egyptians Not Bothered by Anti-U.S. Drive

Americans Most Popular Tourists To Average Citizen

BY ROY ESSOYAN
CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian government's recent anti-American campaign scared some American tourists away last December and January but it doesn't seem to have bothered the ordinary Egyptian.

Americans are still the most popular tourists here.

Even the Egyptian government seems to like them. The flow of tourists is picking up again and government tourist officials are working overtime to push it.

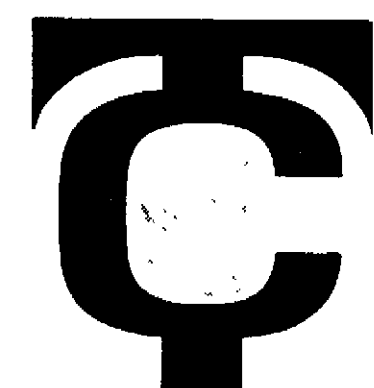

They are promising new hotels, cheaper package tours, a major advertising campaign in the United States and a drastic reduction in red tape.

Little Effect
The anti-American campaign could have been conducted in Chinese for all the effect it appears to have had on the Egyptians that tourists meet.

"You American?" is still the favorite friendly cry of shopkeepers, peddlers, guides and hotel employees.

The camels and donkeys that tourists ride out by the pyramids are still called "Super Jet."

Businessman Sought For Family Murders

DUNCANNON, Pa. (AP) — A daughter, Holly Lynn, 17; and businessman was sought by his mother-in-law, Elizabeth Catherine Swank, 68.

Investigators discovered their bodies at a duplex home here Thursday while investigating information contained in a letter.

A 13-state alarm was issued by Byron L. Halter, 47, of Duncannon, described by police as about 185 pounds, 5 feet 10, with reddish-brown hair, and a beard.

Halter, who operates several small retail stores, was charged Thursday night with the murder of his wife, Betty Jane, 44; his

"California" and "Hopalong Cassidy."

As you wave farewell, the dragomen still yell, "See you later, alligator."

It isn't all mercenary, either. Ordinary Egyptians are just naturally a friendly lot. But the dollar does help. The tourist dollar ranks third among Egypt's foreign exchange earnings, after cotton and the Suez Canal.

More Than Double
It totaled $85.5 million last year, more than double the figure for 1962, and the government is aiming at $100 million this year.

The flow of American tourists visiting Egypt doubled in two years, from 33,920 in 1962 to 66,495 in 1964. That's more than all the Asians and Africans who visited Egypt during the year. And it's more than a third of the total influx from Europe.

But late in 1964, a mob burned down the U.S. Information Agency library in Cairo, a private American plane was shot down over the Nile delta. President Gamal Abdel Nasser denounced the United States, and his government-controlled press launched an anti-American campaign.

The average 1964 flow of 5,500 American tourists a month tapered off sharply toward the end of the year, dropping to 1,200 in January 1965. But there have been no fresh anti-American incidents here since then and the flow of American tourists has started to pick up again. It reached 4,200 in February. Hotel and tourist officials report reservations piling up with some hotels booked solid for three months.

Investigate Letter

Troopers discovered their bodies at a duplex home here Thursday while investigating information contained in a letter.

Copies of the letter had been received by two area newspapers, the Duncannon postmaster and a personal acquaintance of Halter. The Harrisburg Patriot-News, which received a copy, published the letter.

The letter began:

"First to die — sweet mother-in-law.

"2nd to die — sweet wife Betty.

"3rd to die — sweet daughter Holly.

"4th to die — myself.

"I have been good all my life except today. Above all will be saved through Christ. Only myself can be saved by the grace of God I pray He will."

The letter had no return address. What appeared to be a signature at the end was illegible.

Mrs. Swank was the mother of Richard Swank, publisher of the Duncannon Record, who accompanied troopers to the home when the bodies were discovered.

Skiing Still Okay In North Third

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Little or no skiing can be expected in the southern half of Wisconsin this weekend, but the heavy snow cover in the northern third of the state will provide good conditions.

The Superior region still had 39 inches of snow on the ground as of mid-morning today and Park Falls had 34. Amounts tapered off sharply toward the south and east, with Wausau reporting 7 inches. Eau Claire 5. Green Bay 4 and Milwaukee and the Dubuque, Iowa, area 1. The snow cover was gone in the Madison, Beloit, Lone Rock and in February. Hotel and tourist officials report reservations piling up with some hotels booked solid for three months.

In Upper Michigan, Marquette had 32 inches of snow on the ground and Houghton, 39.

WSU-O Snowball Fight Develops Into a Riot

Marvin Peppler who agreed to call in his off-duty county policemen if necessary. Part of the group went downtown again and the rest went to the university campus where they demonstrated in front of the home of Dr. Roger E. Gules, university president.

Police reported the group broke up at 8:50 p.m. The snowballing started about 4:45 p.m. in the residence hall area. Police were called at 5:24 p.m. by a university official after a window was broken. About 200 youths were throwing snowballs at each other.

Three squad cars were sent. This brought out more students, many of them who had gone to Reeve Union to eat. Attempts to disperse the students failed, police said, and the youths began harassing the policemen and throwing snowballs at the police and squad cars.

Police Chief Harry Guenther was contacted and he called the Fire Department for assistance. Two fire trucks were sent.

Both Guenther and Fire Chief Otto Stoegebauer joined their personnel at the scene in front of Reeve Union. The street was closed to traffic and students filled the street and the area in front of the union.

Twenty-one off-duty policemen were called to help restore order along with members of the Winnebago County Police. Firemen turned on hoses at a low pressure spray at 6:11 p.m. to halt the harassing and snowballing. Then police began making arrests.

Then students began to chant, "We want tear gas" and refused to leave the area. Milling around police and blocking the way continued.

Police officials decided to withdraw fire trucks and squad cars at 6:30 p.m., but then some 600 or more students began marching down to city hall where they gathered in the parking lot to protest the arrest of some of their classmates and to ask their release.

Unsuccessful, the students then went downtown at 7:13 p.m. and began marching up and down Main Street. Police closed off the street to traffic and reported the students were harassing pedestrians downtown and throwing snowballs at parked and moving cars.

The mob returned to the city hall parking lot at 7:38 p.m. and became disorderly again. Guenther then contacted Sheriff

Industrial Spy Tangle Revealed

NEW YORK (AP) — A tale of industrial espionage has developed in federal court here with the indictment of a junior executive accused of selling million-dollar trade secrets to a rival firm.

It involves a rendezvous in a men's room at Kennedy Airport, passing $20,000 in marked bills, and even the theft of the buyer's trousers to allow the seller time to get away. But the FBI was waiting.

Indicted Thursday in Brooklyn was Eugene Andrew Mayfield, 26, of Evanston, Ill., a former junior executive of Proctor & Gamble. He was arrested last Nov. 14.

Mayfield, now the products manager for a Chicago firm not involved in the case, was charged with using a telephone to further a dishonest scheme and bringing stolen goods from Chicago to New York.

3 Girls Die In House Fire At Green Bay children were last seen downstairs where the fire was centered.

The Luxemburg firemen searched the first floor before finding the three children huddled on the floor of an upstairs bedroom-playroom where the fire had not reached. They were pronounced dead of suffocation at a Green Bay hospital. The bodies had not been touched by fire, the father said.

Dense Smoke

The fire apparently started in the living room, seared the adjoining kitchen and a first floor bedroom, sending dense smoke and scorching heat up a stairway to the second floor. The main fire damage was confined to the living room. There was heavy smoke and heat damage in the kitchen and downstairs bedroom but fire damage there appeared to be light.

The upstairs was not touched by flames, although varnish in the stairwell at the second floor level was scorched and blackened by smoke.

Assistant State Fire Marshal Earl Schwabe, Green Bay, said today that he is continuing his investigation to learn the cause of the fire. He said that an inspection of the building Thursday indicated the fire started in the living room.

Kewaunee County Sheriff Darwin Lemons and Dist. Atty. S. Dean Pies joined in the investigation Thursday. They said the davenport's foam rubber cushions accounted for much of the smoke.

Other than broken windows and smoke-blackened siding around the living room windows the exterior of the house showed few signs of fire damage.

The seven other Falish children were not at home when the fire started. They are Clarence Jr., 17; Francis, 15; James, 13; Jerry, 12; Rosemary, 10; Pearl, 8; and Darlene, 19. Darlene is married.

The family is staying with relatives in Green Bay.

In North Dakota the results showed 49 per cent opposing it, 48 per cent favoring it, and 3 per cent undecided.

Total replies in the other states showed majorities favoring the penalty. So did men in states — Maine and Wisconsin — also opposed the death penalty.

UW Faculty Protests in 'Teach-in'

MADISON (AP) — A 10-hour "teach-in" was held at the University of Wisconsin Thursday and Thursday night, designed to register protest of United States action in South Viet Nam.

Participants were mostly students, and 26 UW faculty members did the teaching. The crowd which filled a room in the Social Science Building, indicated strong belief that the U.S. should get out of South Viet Nam.

Similar teach-ins have been held at the University of Michigan and Columbia University. While the Wisconsin "teach-in" was under way, another in Viet Nam.

FOND DU LAC (AP)—Giddings & Lewis Machine Tool Co. reported today that 1964 sales were $29.93 million with profits of $1 million, compared with sales of $24.45 million and profits of $766,331 the preceding year. Per share income was $2.14 compared with $1.57.

group of students met in a Law School room in a counter-demonstration arranged by the Committee to support South Viet Nam.

Sponsors said they were gratified with the turn-out, noting their session had no early publicity like the "teach-in" group.

They added that a committee will be set up for a student and faculty session to stress need for continued U.S. participation in Viet Nam.

ce Quell WSU-O Riot

BY ALLAN EKVALL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH—What started out as a snowball fight by a group of Wisconsin State University - Oshkosh students, Thursday night, developed into a riot with the youths harassing police and firemen, marching on the city hall and parading down Main Street.

Fifteen students, many of them from the Fox Valley, were arraigned today before Judge James Sitter in Winnebago County Court for disorderly conduct as a result of the demonstration. Each posted $50 bond and the cases were continued until April 5 at 10 a.m.

At one time there were close to 1,000 students in front of Reeve Memorial Union as police and firemen, aided by the county police, tried to disperse the growing crowd during the supper hour period and end the snowball throwing. Firemen turned water on the rioters at low pressure to bring an end to the melee.

Disorderly Conduct
Charged with disorderly conduct were Ronald W. Wruck, 22, 121 John St., Neenah; Kenneth L. Shingler, 60 Brix St., Clintonville; Lonny R. Jackson, 20, Lakewood; Leroy H. Lathrop, 21, Black Creek; Donald E. Gorshe, 23, Route 1, New London; Thomas D. Findlay, 18, Milwaukee; Thomas D. Hammes, 18, 1145 S. Quincy St., Green Bay; Roger Steinfest, 19, Antigo; Warren J. Peebles, 18, Wauwatosa; James F. Bach, 18, 1904 N. Division St., Appleton; Randall S. Grobe, 20, Rhineland; Michael P. Stanak, 18, 729 Ida St., Menasha; John Bitenc, Milwaukee; Paul E. Witte, 21, Wauwatosa; and Paul A. Walker, 18, Route 1, Wautoma.

Wruck, Shingler and Jackson Thursday night to disperse the crowd in midtown, where a bottle at the corner of Main and Irving Avenue at official reports said 270 persons 8:09 p.m. They were kept were arrested.

Viet Nam Consultations

Taylor Slated for Closed Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor is taking a turn for the better. He repeated that there is no plan of specific retaliation for the bombing of the U.S. Embassy in Saigon, and that "we are simply going to stay on our program of doing what we did before."

Nothing dramatically new needs to be added," Taylor said, "we've just got to do what we have been doing more effectively." On the subject of riot control gas, which was used in a limited way in Viet Nam and drew some criticism from other countries, Taylor said "I think enough has been said on the subject of gas for some time to come."

Top-level Talks
Taylor has spent nearly a week in top-level consultations in Washington and plans to return to Saigon soon. He said "I have never seen more unanimity" among top officials on the U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Taylor briefed a closed session of the House Armed Services and Foreign Affairs committees, and arranged a similar session with Senate committees for later in the morning. He also was to meet later today with President Johnson and the National Security Council.

Stolen Gold Finally Arrives in England
SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — A consignment of 20 gold bars worth $284,200 arrived Friday from South Africa aboard the liner Capetown Castle — eight weeks late.

The gold vanished from a strongroom aboard the liner in February. A search of the vessel in South Africa was fruitless, and the ship sailed back to South Africa. There a second search turned up the bars, hidden on the ship.

Two of the ship's crew were arrested.

Bright Youth Admits Killing His Father

NEW YORK (AP) — Gary Klinger, 18, a brilliant student, who quit pre-medical studies two weeks ago, was charged Thursday night with killing his sleeping father.

The father, Bernard Klinger, 63, a pharmacist in Brooklyn, was slain early Thursday by a rifle bullet which entered his head and coursed through his chest.

The weapon, a 6.5mm Italian magnum rifle, was found in a storm sewer two blocks from the family's three-room apartment in Brooklyn's Sheepshead Bay section.

Eliot Golden, chief assistant district attorney in Brooklyn, said the youth, who reportedly has an IQ of 150, admitted firing the rifle shot.

Police said the rifle was purchased for $16 two weeks ago in a sporting goods store.

Gary's original story, police said, was that he was awakened in the bedroom of the apartment shortly after 6 a.m. Thursday by the blast of a gun. He said he rushed into the living room where his father slept on a daybed and saw a "short, stocky man in a dark suit" climbing out the window.

The man he claimed to have seen also was carrying a cloth sack containing $500 in receipts from the drug store, police quoted the youth as saying.

King Expected To Announce Boycott Plans

Civil Rights Leader Threatens Protests Throughout Nation

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. is expected to announce today details of his plan to organize an economic boycott of Alabama.

King, 36, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and Nobel Peace Prize winner, made the boycott threat last Sunday, but specifics of the plan have been kept secret.

Randolph Blackwell, a King lieutenant, flew to Baltimore from Atlanta Thursday reportedly with a final draft of the proposal.

Annual Meeting
SCLC's executive committee, holding its annual strategy meeting here, went over the plan Thursday night, committee sources said.

King was to make the details public at a news conference.

The conference is scheduled for noon Eastern Standard Time.

Other developments of the two-day SCLC meeting:

—King announced at a fund-raising rally Thursday night that SCLC would carry its non-violent civil rights protest all over the nation. He said the Southern-based conference would expand and become a national organization.

—He announced plans to add 150,000 Negroes to voter registration rolls in seven Southern states in time for the 1966 elections. He estimated the cost of the program at $480,000.

Navy Keeping Tab on Ships In Tonkin Bay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy patrol planes are keeping tabs on Soviet ships and vessels of other nations heading through the Gulf of Tonkin toward Communist North Viet Nam, sources said today.

They said these patrol aircraft sometimes fly as low as a few hundred feet to get clear identification of such ships, to photograph them, and to check on whether they are carrying deck cargo such as airplane fuselages, missile bodies, or tanks.

These sources deny Navy planes do any buzzing, which means a very low and harassing pass.

The Soviet Union has been claiming repeated U.S. buzzing of its ships off Viet Nam, in the East China Sea, and the Sea of Japan.

Navy officials noted that Soviet planes in the past have overflown U.S. aircraft carriers in both the Pacific and the Atlantic.

The Navy stepped up air patrols along the Vietnamese Coast about five weeks ago.

Two such patrols are flown each day by P2V Neptune patrol planes based in South Viet Nam.

A major purpose of the expanded patrolling is to monitor shipping bound into North Viet Nam — not only Communist bloc shipping but vessels of other nations as well.

The greatest interest is in vessels flying Communist bloc flags, especially since the Soviet Union announced it would provide increased military aid to North Viet Nam, which has been hammered by U.S. and South Vietnamese air bombing strikes.

Johnson Orders New Look at VA Hospitals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, apparently head- ing criticism on Capitol Hill, Brown-Kavanaugh County line on says he has some doubts in his mind about the decision to close 11 veterans hospitals, and has ordered a restudy.

At a news conference Thursday, the President said he has shifted and was at home watching television with the three little girls Thursday morning while liam J. Driver to personally visit each of the hospitals and his wife was doing cleaning "take another review of them."

Fighter-Bombers Blast Suspected Guerrilla Sites

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Four U.S. Army men were killed and six others wounded in an assault on a Viet Cong stronghold 20 miles west of Saigon, U.S. military spokesmen reported today. Heavy casualties, both government and Communist, were reported in other actions in South Viet Nam, the reports continued.

Two of the American dead and some of the wounded were helicopter crewmen. Two U.S. Army helicopters were shot down during the fighting.

Reports of the fighting, in Hau Nghia Province, were fragmentary. Early reports said five South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 20 wounded during the first phase Thursday.

The American dead brought the U.S. toll in Vietnamese combat since December 1961 to 320.

Viet Cong Sites
Thirty-three U.S. jet fighters and bombers blasted suspected Viet Cong concentrations at various sites inside South Viet Nam today. — a biggest raid was by 17 F100 Super Sabre Jets in Quang Tri Province, not far from the North Vietnamese border.

Authorities reported that both government forces and the Viet Cong suffered heavy casualties in a major battle Wednesday in Quang Tin Province, 350 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. Air Force F100 from nearby Da Nang airbase swooped in and apparently saved fleeing Vietnamese marines from possible annihilation, at the same time inflicting a heavy toll on the pursuing Viet Cong.

Official Tally
Official accounts said the government forces suffered 32 killed, 104 wounded and 20 missing during the fighting near Viet

Common Practice
However, it is a common practice of the government to inflate enemy casualties vastly in the face of a major reverse as the operation in Quang Tin apparently was. The fighting there was reported to have broken off Thursday.

Government troops in Long An Province, south of Saigon, killed 36 Viet Cong and captured 46 suspects in an operation that cost six government dead and 12 wounded.

The fighting in Hau Nghia Province raged so fiercely that helicopter medical evacuation flights were suspended until landing areas could be made more secure.

He said about 11:10 a.m. his daughters, Clarence Falish, 10, and two other children, were in the house when a fire broke out in the living room.

Leaving the children watching television in the living room of the story and a half frame house a block off highway 57, Falish picked up his wife at the bowling establishment and then stopped at a store.

A neighbor, Raymond Vandenhooten, who lives across the road, telephoned the Luxemburg Fire Department after flames were seen through the living room windows of the Falish home. He also called the bowling alley proprietor who in turn called the store where the Falishes said they planned to stop on the way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Falish hurried home to find the house in flames.

Firemen asked neighbors fighting the fire if anyone was inside and were told that the work at the Club Dyckesville

Red China Official Inspects Aid Project Constructed in Nepal

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Communist China inspected today the first completed Chinese aid project in Nepal — a factory to meet a growing demand for shoes in this remote but modernizing Himalayan kingdom.

Chen, here on a five-day state visit, toured the factory and chatted with Chinese-trained Nepalese who will run it when it goes into operation Sunday with a capacity of 30,000 pairs of shoes a year. An adjacent tanning plant, also built by Chinese, is expected to provide a leather supply for shoes and some extra for export.

Other Chinese aid projects at various stages of construction are a 61-mile road from the frontier of Chinese-held Tibet to Katmandu, three warehouses, and a brick and tile factory.

Heavy Water Escapes From Atomic Reactor

LONDON (AP) — About 60 gallons of radioactive heavy water escaped during a regular shutdown Thursday of the Pluto reactor at Harwell, the Atomic Energy Authority disclosed today.

Routine maintenance and changing of experimental equipment was being carried out at the time.

About 15 persons were in the reactor building, but the authority said none received a radiation dose above permitted levels. No damage was done to the equipment.

Two-thirds of the heavy water has since been recovered, the authority said.

Leaving the children watching television in the living room of the story and a half frame house a block off highway 57, Falish picked up his wife at the bowling establishment and then stopped at a store.

A neighbor, Raymond Vandenhooten, who lives across the road, telephoned the Luxemburg Fire Department after flames were seen through the living room windows of the Falish home. He also called the bowling alley proprietor who in turn called the store where the Falishes said they planned to stop on the way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Falish hurried home to find the house in flames.

Firemen asked neighbors fighting the fire if anyone was inside and were told that the work at the Club Dyckesville

Red China Official Inspects Aid Project Constructed in Nepal

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Communist China inspected today the first completed Chinese aid project in Nepal — a factory to meet a growing demand for shoes in this remote but modernizing Himalayan kingdom.

Chen, here on a five-day state visit, toured the factory and chatted with Chinese-trained Nepalese who will run it when it goes into operation Sunday with a capacity of 30,000 pairs of shoes a year. An adjacent tanning plant, also built by Chinese, is expected to provide a leather supply for shoes and some extra for export.

Other Chinese aid projects at various stages of construction are a 61-mile road from the frontier of Chinese-held Tibet to Katmandu, three warehouses, and a brick and tile factory.

Your Problems

Reassure Child During Night Prowls; Return Him to Bed

BY ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Our seven-year-old daughter has started something new. I don't know how to deal with it.

Carrie has been getting up in the middle of the night and crawling in bed with her father. My husband and I share a large bed, but Carrie never comes to my side, always to his.

She has a different excuse every night. Either it is too cold in her room or too warm. Twice she said she heard noises and was frightened. Last night she said her bed was too hard.

Do you feel we should allow Carrie to get away with this? I told my husband I think it's a bad habit which will be difficult to break later. He feels that she is going through a stage and that it would be damaging to reject her.

Last night I told Carrie to go back to her own bed and she screamed "Daddy is nice and you are mean." What are your views on this — Embattled Mother

Dear Ann Landers: Recently a woman wrote and asked what could be done about her husband's swearing. Your reply stamped envelope was that people use strong language as a substitute for help with their problems. Beyond that you didn't give her much help. My father was a bad swearer.

I say "was" because he doesn't swear any more. This is how my mother cured him.

She made him to agree to pay her 5 cents a hell, 10 cents a damn, 25 cents for attaching the name of the Lord to the damn, and 50 cents for anything worse.

After forking over several dollars worth of change, my father learned to leave the expensive words out of his vocabulary.

I just read this letter to my dad. He smiled and said "That's a damned fine letter" and handed me a dime. I hope you will print it. — Jennie

Sheinwold Luck Often Takes Many Shapes

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
National Men's Team Champion

It's sometimes hard to know whether a bridge player is lucky or unlucky. South was lucky to get most of the high cards, lucky that cards were well placed for him, and lucky to bid a slam that he could make. South's only bad luck was the identity of the East player.

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the ace, forcing South to ruff. Declarer cashed the top clubs and ruffed a club in dummy.

Now the slam was a cinch. South could get to his hand with the king of trumps, ruff another club in dummy, draw trumps, and try the heart finesse.

Nobody could over-ruff the club, and the queen of hearts was well placed. What could be sweeter?

East could have been sweeter. East was Terence Reese, one of the world's greatest bridge players. When South ruffed the third round of clubs in dummy, Reese dropped the queen of clubs.

Sees New Plan

South changed his plan of play. He drew two rounds of trumps with the queen and king but left the last trump out. Since West "obviously" had the last club as well as the last trump, South planned to cash the ten of clubs to discard a heart from dummy. Then he could cash the top hearts and ruff a heart in dummy without relying on the heart finesse.

When South led the ten of clubs, however, West ruffed with the jack of spades, defeating the slam contract. Wasn't that unlucky?

"Poof," you object. "South should not believe that queen of clubs. He could see Terence Reese in the East seat and should smell something fishy."

Not at all. The hand was played some thirty years ago, a suit in which partner can when Reese was still a college student. Reese knew that that one possibility is a jump to Reese was destined to become a world-famous bridge expert. What bad luck for South!

The Ailing House Carport's Floor Is Crumbling

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q I built a carport on our house a year ago and put in a concrete floor. The surface of the concrete is crumbling, and the concrete is crumbling, and a complexion that would have flaking off. Is there any way I can correct this?

A Either the concrete was poured too much when being smoothed, forcing most of the cement to the surface, or the proportion of cement and sand was skimpy. First try applying a liquid cement-hardener, available from masonry supplies dealers. For preserving a youthful skin. Often this is sufficient to overcome the condition. If this doesn't work, you'll need a new concrete topping. Detailed information on proper mixes, etc., is available from your local Portland Cement Association office, or write to their headquarters at 33 W. Grand Ave., Chicago 10.

Helena Rubinstein Leaves Women Beauty Legacy

BY JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Helena Rubinstein is gone, but the legacy she leaves will last as long as beauty is important to women.

For half a century the dough-house a year ago and put in a little Polish-born cosmetician who died Thursday at 94 — with the concrete is crumbling, and a complexion that would have flaking off. Is there any way I can correct this?

Today millions of women feel towed too much when being smoothed, forcing most of the stick. Hundreds of thousands would rather go dancing without shoes than eyeshadow. And it's the rare woman who doesn't have some kind of beauty ritual. For preserving a youthful skin. But in 1915 when Helena Rubinstein came to New York she found that a dusting of chalk white powder was all the respectable lady wore. If a woman painted, she was obviously loose. Moral or not, few women over 25 could boast of complexions that weren't dry and chapped from the effects of weather and the lack of a good lubricating face cream.

As Miss Rubinstein often recalled to associates: "When I came here and saw those complexions I said to myself that America would be the place where I would spend the rest of my life."

She opened a salon, patterned after the thriving enterprises she had pioneered in Australia and Europe. Her early customers slipped secretly through the door, consulted her in hushed tones and could never imagine, even for friends, what was causing their skin to bloom.

Undaunted by the silence of her success, she launched a campaign to put beauty care on a scientific basis, because if it was medical it was obviously moral.

In a now famous advertisement she explained sun rays to ladies who wanted complexions creamy white. Then came the pitch. To bar these rays from staining or browning the skin there was this wonderful new scientific preparation.

Within two years her exclusive salons were opening in America's larger cities and women she had personally trained were giving individualized treatments and selling her products. When department stores begged for her cosmetics she started the huge wholesale business of today.

Her first love had been treatment for complexions and corrective beauty prescriptions for the whole woman — and it continued throughout her life. Even after the volume of her business reached monumental proportions, she still preached the gospel of meeting the needs of the individual woman.

"No two women are alike," she once said, "and each one must study her own problems to learn how to deal with them. When it comes to beauty, I learn something new myself every day."

A funeral service Sunday will be private.

A former cashier of the First State Bank of New London, Richard A. Zuege, 38, was placed on probation for three years Thursday by U. S. District Court Judge Robert E. Tehan.

Zuege pleaded guilty of making three false entries in bank records. The federal Bureau of Investigation said the entries were made to cover embezzlements of $8,700. Zuege told the court he had made restitution.

Zuege made the entries in the records to cover the embezzlements sometime prior to April, 1964. He resigned his position at the bank in September, two months before his arrest. He had worked at the bank 12 years.

Refused to Kill Bill

Assembly May Give Approval to 'Saloons'

MADISON — After half an hour of animated discussion, punctuated with laughter, the Wisconsin Assembly Thursday indicated it may approve legislation to permit the description of free speech which he said is involved in the prohibition of the use of the word "saloon."

The discussion was good humored and spirited, but at one point Assemblyman Paul Alfonsi of Eagle River, apparently annoyed by what he thought was the frivolity of the debate, moved the previous question to shut off discussion.

His motion was defeated.

Assemblyman Norman Anderson of Madison said the issue involves a constitutional right. The Richards Bill, he said, may avoid a test of the constitutional abridgment of free speech which he said is involved in the prohibition of the use of the word "saloon."

The discussion was good humored and spirited, but at one point Assemblyman Paul Alfonsi of Eagle River, apparently annoyed by what he thought was the frivolity of the debate, moved the previous question to shut off discussion.

His motion was defeated.

The bill was inspired by Tom Richards, Sunday Post-Crescent columnist, who recently suggested that the state laws correspond to popular usage and language.

Assemblyman Everett Bolle of Manitowish, chairman of the assembly committee which recommended killing of the measure, ridiculed it and said it was sponsored "by one or two people" and that "nobody in the tavern industry asked for this."

Public Relations Assemblyman Kenneth Kunde of Sheboygan described the author as "a young man from Appleton who apparently felt this was good public relations." Kunde said the bill is "degrading and ridiculous."

Several other lawmakers protested that the legal nomenclature of "tavern" which came with the repeal of prohibition laws more than three decades ago has brought about an improvement in the standards of the beverage trade.

Constitutional Right But Assemblyman Edward Mertz of Milwaukee, a 74-year-old retired saloon keeper, insisted that "it is time that people call a tavern a tavern and a saloon a saloon. There is a difference. Look it up in the dictionary," he invited his colleagues.

Four Injured In Crash Near Weyauwega

Waupaca Woman, Iowa City Couple Taken to Hospital

WAUPACA — A Waupaca woman suffered a broken arm and bruises and three other persons were injured in a two-car crash near Weyauwega on U. S. 10 at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Adolph LaSage, 70, 709 Bartlett St., was a passenger in a car driven by her husband when it went out of control and struck a southbound car, police said. LaSage, 72, suffered a bruised right hip. He told police he hit some slush ice on the road and his car veered into the left lane into the path of the oncoming car, driven by Robert C. Baker, 19, Iowa City, Iowa.

Mrs. Baker, 20, suffered face cuts, a bruised left elbow and left knee. Baker received only minor bruises.

Skidding Broadside

The injured were treated in Waupaca Riverside Hospital. When the cars collided, the LaSage car was skidding broadside and the right front struck the Baker car, police said.

Minutes before the two-car crash, a car driven by Robert McLaughlin, 1511 S. Madison St., Appleton, hit deep slush on the road nearby, skidded out of control and went down a steep embankment. McLaughlin was walking back to the road when the other two cars collided. The accident occurred a quarter mile north of the U. S. 10, State 110 intersection.

Another Site Considered For Waupaca's New Jail

Order Plans Using Present Location

Only 2.3 Per Cent Do Not Graduate

Dropout Rate Low in Waupaca

WAUPACA — Plans for a new Waupaca High School are far below the state average, according to the present school year was now be drawn, bringing the total number of sites proposed to four. Three of the proposed locations for the new jail are on a 16-acre tract of land near the intersection of Madison Street.

The decision to add the fourth site was made Thursday at a meeting of the jail committee and city officials. Adding the fourth location was made after several members of the committee commented that they had been contacted by citizens asking why the location had never been taken into consideration.

If the site were used, it would eliminate a large portion of the present courthouse parking lot, but the committee decided to disregard parking for courthouse employees in planning the new structure. Waupaca Mayor Lloyd Matheson said he "never saw a group of employees that were worried so much about a parking space." He said, "The city has a parking lot just a block away that will handle 100 cars but now they, the employees, will not park there because they would have to walk a block."

Three Plans Viewed Plans already prepared and presented to the county board call for building a jail addition on the south side of the courthouse, another on the northeast side of the courthouse, and the third on the Cartwright property.

The Cartwright property was recommended by the committee at the February board session. Action at that time was delayed to allow members of the board time to study the plans before making a decision.

A plot map of the courthouse square was brought to Thursday's meeting by John Morgan, who said if the old jail were removed there would be plenty of room for a new one-story structure. City officials as well as committee members have ruled out an addition to the south side of the courthouse. This would have been a two-story structure costing an estimated $352,000.

Plan number three was for a three-story addition on the northeast corner of the courthouse costing approximately $452,000. The Cartwright site plan has an estimated price tag, including land, of $318,615.

One-Story Building

Committee members still favor a one-story building, because it would cut down on the number of employees needed to operate the jail.

Mayor Matheson said the city is not too certain of the merits of having their police department in with the county and in the new plans an alternate drawing should be made that would not include the city. "This way the county could Turn to Page 3, Col. 7

Randy Wright Returns to Iola After Long Stay in Hospital

IOLA — Randy Wright, the 17-year-old Iola-Scandinavia High School athlete who was injured in a football game last Oct. 30 and spent five months at a Wausau Hospital recovering from brain surgery, has returned home.

Listed in critical condition for several weeks after the brain surgery which was performed the day after his collapse on the football field, Randy has continued to make marked improvement. Although not fully recovered he is now able to be up and is permitted to go out of doors occasionally. Doctors believe it may be several months before he has fully recovered.

For the first four months Randy was hospitalized, his mother, Mrs. Willard Wright, was at his bedside almost constantly. As he improved she was able last month to return to her home.

Faculty members and students of Iola-Scandinavia High School were on hand to welcome Randy home Sunday. Mrs. Wright said he is able to have visitors and enjoys seeing his classmates. He will not return to school this year, Mrs. Wright said, but it is hoped that by the start of the next school term, Randy will be able to resume his studies.

A charity basketball game to raise funds to bring a foreign exchange student will be played Saturday night at Iola and the family is planning to take the injured youth to the game.

Human Rights Group to Seek 500 Members

Committee Makes Plans for Drive In Fox Cities Area

A goal of 500 was set Thursday at the first meeting of the membership committee of the Fox Valley Human Rights Council at the home of James Sutherland, Appleton, committee chairman.

The group laid plans for seeking members from the seven communities of the Fox Cities.

Sutherland emphasized that the organization seeks a large base of support, to include those who will not have the time to become active in committee work. Membership is open to those who subscribe to the purposes of the organization.

The fundamental purposes of the council, according to Sutherland, are to create affirmative attitudes toward the exercise of equal opportunities by all citizens of the community, and to stimulate the people of the community to a greater understanding of the rights of all people regardless of race, creed, color, or national origin.

He added that the council's primary area of concern is the cause of human rights in the Fox Valley.

Annual dues are $2 per person and $3 for husband and wife. Organizational memberships are $5.

Committee Members

Members of the committee, and the areas they represent, are Mrs. Robert Feldkamp and Neil McCarty, Kaukauna; Marshall Graun, Little Chute; Jack Marquardt, Kimberly; Mrs. William Burger, Neenah; and Kenneth Benson, Eugene Darnacker, Mrs. Donald Long, Victor I. Mahan, Mr. and Mrs. James Retson, Mrs. Hailey Split, and Jack Stanley all of Appleton. Members of the board of directors are also assisting in enrolling members.

Sutherland said the membership committee would ultimately be expanded to about 20 people.

The committee also will take memberships at the council meeting at 8 p.m. next Monday in the Reddy Room of the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. The program will deal with the fair housing legislation now being considered by the state legislature.

Did you know the Kadett is made in Germany by General Motors?

Did you know it has bucket seats and a 4 speed floor shift and enough other standard equipment to make a lot of other cars look positively stripped down?

Did you know the sedan and sports coupe have trunks the size of real, honest-to-goodness trunks? And that the wagon has 50 cubic feet of cargo space?

Did you know there are Buick/Opel dealers all across the country that you can count on for parts and service?

Did you know you can buy a brand-new Kadett for the price of a good used car?

Well, now you know.

Understand the Charter Ordinance

An injustice is being done the general public and the cause of good government in Appleton by opponents of a charter ordinance recently adopted by the Common Council to make the positions of city clerk, treasurer, assessor and attorney appointive. In circulating petitions for a referendum which is their prerogative under the law, they are distorting the purpose of the long overdue government reform.

It should be of concern to well-meaning Appleton residents deeply interested in the future of their growing city that some petition circulators have mounted a whispering campaign and scare tactics to promote the untruth that the charter ordinance was passed solely to give the mayor more power. They claim the right of the people to select government officials is being usurped.

Nothing could be further from the truth of the matter. And since citizens asked to sign petitions should know what they are signing, it is important that the following points be understood:

- The purpose of the ordinance is to coordinate the administrative staff of city government with the executive and legislative branches and prevent administrators from engaging in policymaking and "empire building" without being answerable directly to anyone within the governmental structure.

- All applicants for the four positions will be tested, graded and then ranked by the State Bureau of Personnel—not the mayor—and oral interviews would follow. When the grades of applicants are compiled, a list of those most qualified for the jobs of clerk, treasurer, assessor and city attorney (The Outagamie County Bar Assn. will be consulted on the latter) will be forwarded to the mayor.

- The mayor will then make recommendations to the council of the most qualified person to fill the four offices. The council actually makes the appointments. Both the mayor and council are directly answerable to the voters for the appointments made. The appointees in turn will be answerable to the mayor and council.

- Appointments to the four offices will be for tenure. They will continue to hold office until removed by resignation or death or "for cause" by a three-fourths vote of the council. This will insure that city administrative positions are filled by qualified career persons who will not have to worry about running for re-election every two years or being forced out of office through a change in mayors. It will give continuity to the administrative branch of city government.

It is significant that the men now holding office as city clerk and city attorney are opposing the charter ordinance, which is their right. However, we can only conclude from their attitudes that they fear they would not be successful in retaining their jobs.

More Rapid Amendment

Sen. Allan J. Busby of West Allis, whose seniority in the legislature and experience as a lawyer entitles his proposal to respectful consideration, has offered in the state legislature a plan for speeding the process of state constitutional amendment.

These columns have indicated in earlier comments some reservations about the pressure, particularly from Milwaukee County sources, for a constitutional convention that would be held for the total rewriting of the state's fundamental law. Much of that demand, as we have observed it, comes as a result of the impatience of some critics with the admittedly laborious and slow method of constitutional change that was incorporated into the constitution by the men who wrote it nearly a century and a quarter ago.

Sen. Busby's proposal would meet those objections, to the extent that they are put forward in good faith. Instead of the requirement that an amendment must be approved by two successive legislatures by simple majority votes in identical form, and then ratified by the electorate in a referendum, he would substitute a provision for single session legislative approval by a two-thirds majority vote in each legislative house.

Tightrope for Anti-Americanism

The life of a dictator in one of the world's relatively new countries, rising to independence and some fame upon the buried bones of colonialism, is not easy. The left hand and the right hand practically have to be in separate rooms.

The major trouble is that the United States makes such an excellent whipping boy for political speeches—but the anti-Americanism mustn't go so far as to discourage American tourists or investors.

Premier Nasser of the United Arab Republic made headlines when he virtually told the United States to take its aid projects and go home. He righteously declared his independence once more of American imperialistic influence by shouting about the aid he was sending to the Congo rebels and the troops he equipped in Yemen.

But then last week the U.A.R. suddenly presented to the United States a rare Egyptian temple which American funds, archeologists and know-how had saved from the Nile. A large ad in the New York Times outlined in glowing detail the "second five-year plan" of the U.A.R. with its stimulation of heavy industry, consumer goods, chemicals and iron and steel and vocational and technical education so as to make skilled labor available. The ad didn't specifically ask for American investors but it was obviously worded to whet some capitalistic appetites.

On the same page, however, the Republic of Ghana was more outspoken. It offers "bright investment opportunities" and cites investments which "provide a clear indication of the confidence which foreign investors have in the future of Ghana's progress and prosperity." The ad describes the Investment Act, the deductions and exemptions, tax holidays and protection "against expropriation by the government." And "in exceptional circumstances when a take-over is necessary, adequate compensation" will be made.

Despite the one-party status of many of the new countries, the use of the army and state police to discourage criticism and opposition, many of the heads of state do seek favorable public opinion. Anti-Americanism is a popular sport at present but there has to be kept a careful balance between the enthusiasm for breaking embassy windows and burning information library books and the chances of discouraging American investment. It's really a pretty delicate business.

Believes Wallace Is Only Man Fighting to Keep Commies Out

Editor, Post-Crescent:

This letter, I know, will not be printed for I am not that good at composing one and your paper might not agree with all I have to say. But I am writing it for it just might do some good.

What I have to say is pertaining to the news article "Impeach Wallace, Rights Leaders Cry." Boy, I hope many people who have read this are finally waking up. Impeach Wallace! My gosh, he is the only one who has been keeping peace down in Alabama so far — keeping this racial situation in hand.

People are so stupid. Don't they know what's behind all this racial strife and demonstrations? Don't they know what's behind Martin Luther King's pushing, pushing the Negro into hate, hate the whites, under false pretenses of helping them by getting them their right to vote. Why don't people wake up — investigate King's background instead of going along with everything he is trying to do? He wants everyone to feel sorry for the down-trod, pushed-around-enough, poor Negro.

Failure to Keep Up Hurts U. S. Business

From Exchange's

"What is the greatest challenge to business today?" asked a speaker recently at a seminar at Florida State University.

From the audience came replies. The first man said "the Great Society." Another said "government interference." Still another said "getting the government out of business" and another said "excessive regulation." Others said profit and "getting competent people in management." But the majority said the government sticking its paws into business is number one.

The speaker, W. R. Bryan, of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., said these are common answers he gets when he asks the question. Actually, he said, the biggest single challenge is "management lag" which means that management is not keeping up with progress today.

It's all inter-related. If businesses could be freed of some of the regulations, interferences and dominance, it might be possible to have some money, time and ability to develop new business, expand and put more people to work, who in turn, would put more money into the federal tax tills to keep up the Great Society.

were elected co-presidents of the Menasha Junior and Senior Parent-Teacher Association, succeeding Mr. and Mrs. Hayward Biggers.

Area men enlisting in the army were three from Appleton, George Schabo, Thomas Wilz and Lester Snell, Clayton VandeBurgt, route 4, Appleton, and Wendell Dietz, route 1, Hortonville.

Don't get me wrong, I have nothing against Negroes — they're good people, just as human as whites — but they don't belong in with the whites! It only causes much trouble. Surveys have been taken. I can prove this if anyone wants to go into this farther, that Negroes do not want to mix with the whites, at least most of them feel this way. They would rather be with their own, where they are happy with their own set standard of living. This is a free country (at least that's what they tell me) and the Negro and the white too should live as they want, not always being pushed by agitators into something they don't want and something they can see for themselves will never work no matter how hard everyone tries.

Impeach Wallace, man if this happens that would be the Communist's next big step in trying to gain control of our U.S. Get rid of all the good men who know what is going on. Yes, Communism, and anyone who thinks that the United States is something special that the Commies won't dare touch, or that we are too good for them to take over better have their heads examined! With over one-half of the world already in the greedy paws and filthy clutches of Communism, does anyone think they're going to stop for us?

I suggest you people get on the ball, investigate matters, our biggest and most likely our worst now, the Negro situation.

As an eighteen year old American patriot, I am very concerned, and I sincerely hope more are.

Ordinance for Vote On Streets Poor One

Editor, Post-Crescent:

In an inconspicuous place on the ballot in the April 6 election will be an innocent sounding referendum. This is on the ballot for one reason only and that is to stop the development of Bellaire Park.

The instigators of the petition (who won't stand up and be counted but only work through a lawyer or other third party) gained enough support to force a referendum by claiming this road would become a speedway. I drive over this road many times and know it has been conspicuously posted with 10 miles per hour speed limits.

I'm sure that if a mistake has been made on this road it can be corrected anytime with less drastic measures and without such a poor ordinance as the proposed one.

I have carefully studied the proposed ordinance published in the legal notices in Saturday's Post-Crescent and would advise everyone to do so before voting on this issue.

The proposed ordinance covers streets abutting private educational institutions as well as roads in parks. This was just another lure to attract signers for their petition on the pretext of aiding Lawrence University. This is not necessary because Appleton has always been more than fair in its dealings with this fine institution.

There are at least twelve private educational institutions in Appleton involving 40 or more streets. Therefore, if adopted, this ordinance would allow any small group (less than 1 per cent of the city's voters) and one alderman to delay a necessary street project and force it to a costly referendum. I will vote NO.

Opposition of Nelson, Lucey to Letting Down Gambling Bars Noted

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — That two of the principal leaders of the Wisconsin Democratic Party have taken pointed and drastic action to declare themselves unequivocally against any relaxation of the traditional barriers against gambling in Wisconsin is one of the noteworthy developments of the season.

Wyngaard

Sen. Gaylord Nelson took pains to write a letter to one of his home city papers the other day to declare in absolute terms his opposition to any modification of the effective state constitutional prohibition of gambling.

A few days later Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey made his own declaration of all-out opposition to the movement for constitutional amendment that appears, at least to some nervously apprehensive critics, to be gaining some adherents in state politics.

Sen. Nelson and Lt. Gov. Lucey have not been conspicuous thus far for their ability to get along together. That they should agree to the last jot and tittle on this question is perhaps as clear a warning as could be given to the lesser men in the legislature carrying their party labels that the top party men don't want Democrats associated with the dubious campaign for breaking down the anti-gambling code that has withstood all assaults in the past.

WARNING

The warning was clearly given to a group of new Democratic members of the legislature who turned up with a plan for a state-sponsored sweepstakes program almost as soon as they had been sworn in a few months ago.

It is not easy to identify the real authors of legislation in the Democratic side of the system this year. There appears to be a "buddy" system which encourages a man who has an idea to invite his friends and seat-mates to affix their names to the proposal also in the hope of giving it added attention and appeal. But it is worth noting that this most ambitious — and radical in Wisconsin terms — legislation bears Democratic names exclusively. It is a fair deduction from the prominence that Nelson and Lucey sought for their renunciations that they want the bill buried, at the least, and preferably withdrawn.

There is also the perennial issue of bingo in this legislature. It is essentially a bipartisan proposal, now as in the past. There is a lingering belief that churches and other groups can raise money through such games that they find it difficult or impossible to collect otherwise.

But bingo in the eyes of the conservative critic is not really distinguishable from the more ambitious forms of gambling. It would represent a breach of the anti-lottery code that has survived since the time of the frontier as surely as would the sweepstakes plan, or the parimutuel race betting proposal that appeared in the 1963 session — under Republican sponsorship — but was quietly put to death and has not been resurrected this year.

THE DANGER

The citizen is not necessarily to be labeled as a blue-nose who has grave doubts about such proposals even when they are hemmed in with supposed safeguards about state sponsorship, or with provisions for state inspection or state licensing and a limitation to non-profit or eleemosynary purposes.

The danger is that any such relaxation of the absolute prohibitions that have been supported thus far would be an irresistible temptation to the hoodlums and the racketeers of other parts of the country, as Sen. Nelson has suggested. The fact is that the state would require an enormous additional army of inspectors and investigators to provide any semblance of assurance of literal enforcement of the exemption laws.

There is no real chance for legislative enactment of these propositions. The significance if any, lies in the fact that they are apparently gaining some adherents among less sophisticated legislators and that one day there may be a chance for their enactment.

Strictly Personal

Hedda Gabler First Neurotic on Stage

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Watching a revival of Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" on the stage not long ago, it suddenly struck me that the title of the play was an odd one. Odd because although Hedda is already six months married when the play begins, the title is her maiden name, not her married name.

Harris

Surely this must have some significance, I thought, and looked up the history of the play. In a letter to Count Prozor, just after completing the drama, Ibsen wrote:

"My intention in giving it this name was to indicate that Hedda as a personality is to be regarded rather as her father's daughter than as her husband's wife."

Hedda was the daughter of General Gabler. She was pampered and coddled by her father; when he died, she treasured his set of pistols, and finally killed herself with one of them, in contempt for the man she had married and disgust for the other man she had driven to death.

As the first truly neurotic "modern" character to appear on the stage, Hedda shows again how artists have anticipated the later insights of psychologists and doctors: for decades before Freud's research, Ibsen knew that a woman who "belongs" to her father could never by anyone's wife in more than name.

We accept this as a commonplace today, and find nothing mysterious or inconsistent or unbelievable in Hedda's drives and behavior. The drama seems perfectly clear to us, in sharp contrast with many contemporary plays.

Yet, when "Hedda Gabler" was first presented in 1891, it was charged with perversity, obscurity, and the same condemnations many give today to the plays of Beckett, Albee, Pinter, and other avant-garde dramatists.

In Munich, then in Berlin, then in Stockholm, then in Copenhagen, then in Christiana, the productions were vastly unsuccessful with the audiences. Whistling and laughing, we are told, constantly interrupted the performances, so that the actors could hardly speak their lines.

We know now that Ibsen was not only a genius in dramaturgy but also a master psychologist. Hedda is the prototype of the modern neurotic female, and Ibsen was able to see 75 years ago the role and identity of woman in the modern world.

Constant reminders of this kind are necessary, in order to instill a little more humility in present-day audiences. The playwrights we find "difficult" and "obscure" may be speaking confused nonsense; on the other hand, they may be trying to say things we are not ready to hear or understand. Only time can determine which it is; meanwhile, we must not be so sure that the confusion is in the artist, and not in us.

No Illusions as Ray Bliss Gets Republican Job

Party Condition Leaves New Head With Major Task

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ray C. Bliss' combination rescue worker and cement-mixer, has taken over his new job without any illusions or hokum about the dilapidated condition of the Republican party.

The 57-year-old Bliss, a political technician of the silent type, Thursday succeeded Dean Burch, anything but silent, as chairman of the GOP's national committee.

Burch, handpicked by Barry Goldwater for the chairman's job during last year's campaign, was forced out after the 1964 election disaster. He was a valuable symbol of the Goldwater philosophy which led the party into shattering defeat.

Never Silent
Goldwater was never silent, either, but at this stage in the party's history Bliss' silence may be golden.

He has to help save the party from oblivion, which it is headed for if he can't recapture the confidence of the voters, and at the same time mix the cement needed to put the scattered pieces together.

Bliss apparently thinks the Republicans need a complete overhaul job. He said "We must build a party which offers a broad appeal to all citizens of the United States." It didn't in 1964, as the returns showed.

The overhaul would require fusing the Goldwaterites and the anti-Goldwater Republicans into a unity which may be impossible, for Goldwater himself Thursday described the kind of party he wants.

"Weak-Kneed"
He said the GOP has been "weak-kneed and shortsighted" in facing the issue of what he called mounting federal power. But this was one of Goldwater's principal positions in the election which rejected him worse than any modern-day candidate.

Goldwater continued: "We can no longer hide behind the wimpy words that try to say we can avoid the problem by ignoring it."

He singled out President Johnson's voting rights bill, which has a lot of Republican support in Congress and seems sure to pass, as typifying the kind of centralized power he opposes.

This sounds like the Goldwater of 1964. He still apparently hasn't accepted as a reality of American life the fact that his ideas of government were overwhelmingly rejected.

Unify Party
If he keeps up it will make an old man of Bliss whose main task is to try to unify the party. The party split will be permanent if Goldwater and his followers insist upon sticking to their 1964 line. For the anti-Goldwaterites can hardly afford to, and certainly won't, follow him and still hope to win the 1968 congressional elections.

Controversial Figure
The latest evidence of the continuing split in the party came after Goldwater spoke when former Vice President Richard

AVS Offers Summer Driving Class

A summer driver education program for adults, high school students and non-residents will begin the week of April 26 in Appleton Vocational and Adult School.

The April 26 date is the starting point for classroom instruction for high school students who have not taken a course in driver education. Classroom instruction for adults starts the week of May 31. Driving begins the week of June 14.

Classroom instruction will be given in seven 2-hour sessions, for adults and 15 2-hour sessions, for students. All persons will get a minimum of six hours driving time.

Textbooks, lesson sheets and visual aids are supplied by the school.

Liability, collision - property damage insurance is carried by the school.

Registration is from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. April 12 through 15 and 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. April 16.

M. Nixon said he disagreed and wants a voting bill passed promptly, even though he thinks it should be revised a bit.

Instead of a bill, Goldwater said, the Johnson voting proposal should be a constitutional amendment. But that would take so much time to approve that Nixon said it couldn't be done before the 1966 elections.

While Burch was always a controversial figure within the party, Bliss won't be, if he can help it. His philosophy of his job is "Stay in the background, do all the necessary chores, get Republicans to the polls, and keep his mouth shut."

Yet, he is convinced the GOP needs Goldwater's personal following "to win elections." For being an expert party manager he will get $40,000 a year, or $20,000 more than he got for a similar job with the Republicans in Ohio.

He had been chairman of the party's state central committee since 1949, got it back on its feet after President Truman swept Ohio in the 1948 elections. Between 1949 and 1965 Republicans lost only two elections in Ohio, a costly kidney transplant operation in 1958 and 1964.

Cow Girls, Teachers in Benefit Tilt

WITTENBERG—The highly touted touring girls basketball team, Texas Cow Girls, will meet the high school faculty April 6 in a benefit game.

Originally the game, sponsored by the Future Farmers of America, was intended to be a benefit for the school American Field Service foreign exchange student fund, but this was before plight of Mike Alberg the ailing Wittenberg youngster, became known. Now proceeds will be divided equally between the two funds.

The youth is at the University of Minnesota Hospital awaiting just only two elections in Ohio, a costly kidney transplant operation.

Responsible people are concerned about cancer. Being really concerned means doing something, not just worrying fruitlessly.

McGrady, who is science editor of the American Cancer Society, has done something by writing the most important cancer book yet — a book that not merely describes the disease but tells how it is being fought, how it might well be fought, and how you as an individual can help fight it.

The book has been condensed into 12 articles entitled "The Savage Cell," to be published in the Post-Crescent beginning Monday.

Valley Music Groups May be Violating Law

Outagamie Sheriff Receives Hints State Statutes Ignored

Popularity of musical groups in the Fox River Valley area may be leading some youthful enthusiasts into violation of state industrial commission regulations, Outagamie County Sheriff Calvin Spice indicated today.

He said he has received "some hints" that music groups playing engagements in beer taverns or so-called minor bars in the area may not be considering the state labor law statutes regarding minors.

Fred Gehrke, head of the Appleton Office of the Wisconsin Employment Service, said industrial commission regulations forbid "performances" by any child under age 18 in roadhouses, cabarets, dance halls, night clubs, taverns "or any other similar place," with or without a working permit.

Gehrke said the law does not forbid the participation in concerts, theatrical or musical exhibitions.

Spice said he has received some inquiries from parents seeking permission for youths as young as 16 to play musical groups which keep engagements in the area.

Gehrke said his office has received no complaints of groups violating the regulations.

Jaycettes Seeking More Members

The Jaycettes are up to their collective earrings in many worthy community projects. Quite frankly, they admit they'd like a few new members to join them and find out what fun it is to be where the action is.

To introduce their program to prospective members, the Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary will hold an open house in conjunction with the Jaycees own membership drive. The event, scheduled at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Country Aire Club, will include refreshments and games and summaries of the club purposes and projects. The only membership requirement is that one's husband be a Jaycee member.

The Appleton Jaycettes began operation in 1936, and have consistently followed their main purpose of assisting the Jaycee program. They have acted as chaperones at the Jaycee-sponsored Miss Appleton Pageant, introducing the contestants to their sponsors and helping them dress for rehearsals and pageant. They also act as hostesses at pre-pageant parties and have charge of the after-pageant reception. This year the women are also soliciting ads for the pageant booklet.

Charity Work Among their charity programs is participation in the Jaycee Christmas shopping tour, with the women applying gay gift wrap to the purchases. needy youngsters have made for their families. The young women conduct a program for girls between 11 and 13, called "Jaycette Junior Improvers." Five clinics cover hair styling, posture, make-up and wardrobe. The older generation is remembered when the Jaycettes take Golden Agers of the Outagamie County Hospital on outings.

Members manned the telephones and handled publicity for the Cerebral Palsy Telethon, in conjunction with carrying out the state-level Cerebral Palsy project. To make the effort more personal, the group adopts a child afflicted with Cerebral Palsy and gives holiday gifts, remembers her birthday and takes her on a Christmas shopping tour for gifts for herself and her family.

The organization is responsible for helping obtain equipment for Morgan School. Members contributed toward the building of a shelter at Camp Waubeek.

Fund Raisers Too In response to fund drives, the women have contributed to both hospital expansion programs and have helped with the Heart Fund Drive. They have also worked in the TB Mobile Unit. Members make about 50 tray favors for City Home residents for each of eight holidays. The group visits the Home twice a month, bringing entertainment and helping residents with personal needs, such as mending or writing letters.

This is the most rewarding part of their work, they say, but they don't overlook the fun role a good organization plays for its members.

They model at style shows, give card parties, collect recipes for a cookbook and, in July, operate a food stand at the Civic Celebration.

They lead above the level too. Mrs. James Murphy is a vice president of the district, comprised of seven chapters. Miss Gerald Schoepke is state librarian.

A Good Chef is imbued with pride in his work, and knows his profession from the basics right on up. John Niehowal, Jackson, Mich., is one of the students spending 12 to 16 hours a day learning the intricacies of fine cooking.

Culinary Classroom

Pride, Know-How Part of Training Given by French Chef

BY JULIE SMITH
Post-Crescent News Service

Great professional cooks are few and far between in America, according to Mme. John Hubert Kouny, who runs a unique school for chefs in her 114 year old home, The Postilion, in Fond du Lac.

"To be considered a good chef, all that seems to be required nowadays is that a man don the high white hat and turn out a good hamburger," Mme. Kouny laments in her charming French accent.

The reason for this dearth of professional chefs, Mme. Kouny firmly believes, is that there has been no place for cooks to go to learn their art.

"That's why I started my school for chefs two years ago," she comments.

Mme. Kouny, who always appears in a modish hat rather than in a chef's toque, has been in the United States since 1943. She studied cooking at a finishing school in Switzerland, but says that most of her ability in the kitchen must be attributed to training under her mother, the product of a long line of good cooks.

In the cooking classes, which meet in the basement of The Postilion, Mme. Kouny completely revolutionizes the way her pupils prepare and serve food.

Start at Beginning

"I start with the basics," claims the volatile European-born woman, as she pauses to test a pot of lentil soup which pupils have cooked.

"There is no way of building anything without a foundation. The 'why' in cooking is just as important as the 'why' in house building."

According to Mme. Kouny, the symbol of good eating in American restaurants has become the 12 ounce steak and baked potato with sour cream.

"This is ridiculous? Who ever heard of such a thing? Do you know anyone who goes into a restaurant and demands a 12 ounce steak?"

She finds the whole American preoccupation with steak disturbing. "We now not only have steak, but we have 'his' and 'hers' steaks. A man is judged by the amount of steak he can eat. Often steaks are disguised under phony names. To me it doesn't make any difference if a steak has a fancy name. A tough steak is a tough steak."

Mme. Kouny, who also runs a culinary school for housewives, operates a plush restaurant in her home, teaches cooking classes at the Green Bay YWCA and serves as advertising director for a candle manufacturer in Oshkosh, speculates that if she were to examine the menus of 5,000 restaurants across the United States, 95 per cent of them would offer the same fare.

Average Menu

The menus would contain steak, hamburger, broiled lobster tails, deep fried fantail shrimp and lamb chops or pork chops, the hazel-eyed mother of two school aged children says.

"This is the reason why slightly better restaurants become unduly famous. As the old saying goes, 'In the kingdom of the blind, the one-eyed man is king'."

Chefs come to Mme. Kouny's school from all over the United States. She specializes in training country club kitchen personnel because the average cook cannot afford to take the time to attend the school or afford to pay the tuition. With a country club behind the cook, this becomes possible.

Sugar, to be Carmalized over a very low flame and used in creamy custard, is sprinkled in a skillet by Curtis Miller, directed by Miss Vern McGloane. Mme. Kuony says her course in cookery "begins at the beginning."

Robert Clary to Star in Jones Beach Musical

NEW YORK (AP) — Guy Lombardo's next production at the 8,200-seat Jones Beach Marine Theater is to be 'Mardi Gras,' a musical with a New Orleans setting.

Sig Herzig wrote the story, which spans from 1814 to the present, and songs are being written by Carmen Lombardo and John Jacob Loeb. A main performer in the exhibit, which opens June 26 and runs to Sept. 5, is Robert Clary, who appeared the past two summers at Jones Beach in "Around the World in 80 Days."

tall pot, the bottom will be mush before the top is cooked. If you put it into a long, shallow pan, the stew will be dehydrated before it is cooked."

Teaching pupils to cut down on waste in cooking is a basic aim of the school for chefs.

"In every facet of cooking in today's kitchens there is waste," declares Mme. Kuony, shaking her head. "If my pupils learn nothing else while they are here, they learn to eliminate waste entirely."

Waste in cooking is caused by lack of knowledge. Mme. Kouny firmly states. Use the whole animal.

A hoof is as good for its own purpose as the tenderloin is," Mme. Kouny says with finality.

By way of analogy, Mme. Kouny says, "If you were to give a knowledgeable woman a little scrap of material, she could create something beautiful from it. But you could give another a half yard of silk satin, and she couldn't do a thing with it. It is the same in cooking."

Your Problems

Reassure Child During Night Prowls; Return Him to Bed

BY ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Our seven-year-old daughter has started something new. I don't know how to deal with it. Carrie has been getting up in the middle of the night and crawling in bed with her father. My husband and I share a large bed, but Carrie never comes to my side, always to his. She has a different excuse every night. Either it is too cold in her room or too warm. Twice she said she heard noises and was frightened. Last night she said her bed was too hard. Do you feel we should allow Carrie to get away with this? I told my husband I think it's a bad habit which will be difficult to break later. He feels that she is going through a stage and that it would be damaging to reject her. Last night I told Carrie to go back to her own bed and she screamed, "Daddy is nice and you are mean." What are your views on this — Embattled Mother

After forking over several dollars worth of change, my father learned to leave the expensive words out of his vocabulary. I just read this letter to my dad. He smiled and said, "That's a damned fine letter and handed me a dime. I hope you will print it. — Jennie. Dear Jennie: I agree with your dad.

Sheinwold Luck Often Takes Many Shapes

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It's sometimes hard to know whether a bridge player is lucky or unlucky. South was lucky to get most of the high cards, lucky that cards were well placed for him, and lucky to bid a slam that he could make. South's only bad luck was the identity of the East player. West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the ace, forcing South to ruff. Declarer cashed the top clubs and ruffed a club in dummy. Now the slam was a cinch. South could get to his hand with the king of trumps, ruff another club in dummy, draw trumps, and try the heart finesse.

The Ailing House Carport's Floor Is Crumbling

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q I built a carport on our house a year ago and put in a concrete floor. The surface of the concrete is crumbling and flaking off. Is there any way I can correct this?

A: Either the concrete was troweled too much when being smoothed, forcing most of the cement to the surface, or the proportion of cement and sand was skimpy. First try applying a liquid cement-hardener, available masonry supplies dealers. Often this is sufficient to overcome the condition. If this doesn't work, you'll need a new concrete topping. Detailed information on proper mixes, etc., is available from your local Portland Cement Association office, or write to their headquarters at 33 W. Grand Ave., Chicago 10.

Helena Rubinstein Leaves Women Beauty Legacy

BY JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Helena Rubinstein is gone, but the legacy she leaves will last as long as beauty is important to women. For half a century the doughy little Polish-born cosmetician who died Thursday at 94 — with a complexion that would have made a woman half her age envious — had wielded a mighty influence. Today millions of women feel downright naked without lipstick. Hundreds of thousands would rather go dancing without shoes than eyeshadow. And it's the rare woman who doesn't have some kind of beauty ritual for preserving a youthful skin. But in 1915 when Helena Rubinstein came to New York she found that a dusting of white powder was all the respectable lady wore. If a woman painted, she was obviously loose. Moral or not, few women over 25 could boast of complexions that weren't dry and chapped from the effects of weather and the lack of a good lubricating face cream. As Miss Rubinstein often re-
